

NEW PARTY LOOMS AS G. O. P. CONVENTION RESULT

G. O. P. PLANS WAR
ON M'ADOOChiefs Pick Him As Democratic Nominee

PUT COX IN SECOND PLACE

Million Harding Pictures Ordered
As Campaign Material.

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Republican leaders Monday began to plan their presidential campaign on the assumption that William G. McAdoo will be nominated by the Democrats at their national convention, which opens in San Francisco June 28.

Prominent Democrats here, en route to the Pacific coast, declared the situation in their party had not crystallized sufficiently to permit even a guess to be hazarded as to the probable nominee. The Republicans, however, were disposed to favor the Democratic brethren by picking their candidate for them. This attitude of the Republicans was illustrated in the speech of Charles S. Wheeler, San Francisco, attorney, who nominated Senator Hiram Johnson last week. He bitterly attacked the Democratic administration and asked if the Republican party, by refusing to nominate a "sure winner," wished to continue the "Wilson dynasty" by placing the "crown prince" in the White House.

PICK COX FOR SECOND PLACE

McAdoo, who has refused to permit an open campaign to be made in his behalf, and who has cannyly removed himself from active participation in the councils of the party, is expected to spend the period of the Democratic convention at his desk in New York City.

The Republicans have even gone so far as to assume that James M. Cox, of Ohio, would be the Democratic choice for vice-president. As the situation stood Monday, Cox has probably more instructed delegates than any of the Democratic candidates and was known to have the backing of many powerful leaders within the party.

Among those prominently mentioned in connection with the convention were:

Vice-President, Thomas R. Marshall, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Governor Edward G. Bremer, of New Jersey, Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Meredith, Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, of Nebraska; Homer S. Cummings and Secretary Newton D. Baker.

MILLION PICTURES ORDERED

Party leaders are preparing to get the Harding-Coolidge campaign under way without delay and to make it lively from the start. Their first step will be to flood the country with pictures of Harding and Coolidge. One million pictures of Harding have been ordered and will be sent into every state within a week or two.

A conference will be held in a few days between Harding and Senator Lodge to name a committee to notify the candidate. At that time the time and place of the nomination will be decided. Harding favors notification in his home town, Marion, Ohio. Similar arrangements will be made by William Allen White, of Kansas, for notification of Governor Coolidge, vice-presidential nominee.

CHIEFS TO MEET

An executive committee, to have direct charge of the campaign is also to be named after a conference between Senator Harding and a special committee named to arrange with him for details of the campaign. This committee is headed by Charles D. Rilles, of New York; Harding and Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee, also are scheduled to talk things over within a few days.

Said Arthur Brisbane, well known Hearst writer to W. J. Bryan, in the press section at the Coliseum Saturday morning, when it became apparent that Lowden, Wood or Johnson could not win: "Had it not been for the convention, Wood could have easily won the nomination."

Proctor's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win. Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

$1,000,000 SUIT SEQUEL TO MURDER CASE

ESSAD PASHA, EX-CHIEF OF ALBANIA ASSASSINATEDShot Down in Front of His Hotel
In Paris

ASSAILANT IS STUDENT

Victim An Exile From His Native Land

PARIS. — (By United Press) — Police Monday sought some motive for assassination of General Essad Pasha, former president of Albania, by a young Albanian student named Avnen Rustem, in front of the Hotel Continental here, in the presence of hundreds of people.

Essad Pasha was shot as he left the hotel entrance on his way to a waiting automobile. The student stepped from behind a pillar of the hotel arcade and fired three shots in rapid succession from a distance of only a few feet. The first shot struck Essad Pasha in the stomach, while the second lodged in his breast close to the heart. The third went wild.

Scores of men pounced upon the student, who was rescued by the police, after considerable mauling.

A physician stepped from the crowd and after a brief examination, declared Essad had only a few minutes to live. He died as he was being carried to his apartment.

Rustem told police he was 26 years old and had come from Rome to Paris on June 6, to continue his studies. He declared he had not planned to murder Essad Pasha, but said he always carried a revolver. Rustem said he was passing in front of the hotel when the former Albanian president emerged and was seized with an irresistible impulse to take the life of the man he believed had caused his country such suffering. Rustem will be tried by civil court.

International complications were feared as a result of the assassination in view of the fact followers of Essad Pasha are now in open revolt against Italian occupation forces at Valona. The Rome government had forbidden Essad to return to Albania and he had taken up his residence at the French capital. Essad had consistently opposed Italian claims in Albania.

INJURED IN WRECK

Engineer's Shoulder Broken in Smash Near Bluffton

Bluffton, (Special). — Engineer Barney Kramer of Delphos, suffered a broken shoulder early Monday morning when his train, a Northern Ohio freight, was wrecked a mile north of Bluffton. No one else was injured.

A derail is held responsible for the accident. The train was a doubleheader going west. Traffic on the Northern Ohio is tied up by the debris of the wrecked train. The engine was demolished.

FOUR DIE IN CRASH

GREENVILLE, Ohio. — Four persons were killed when Pennsylvania train Number 11, struck an automobile at Wiley's Station, 15 miles west of here, Sunday night. The dead are: Emil Howell, railroad agent at West Manchester; A. R. Trager, and twin sisters named Leas.

HARDING IS WARNED
BY WOMEN BACK FROM CHICAGO PICKET LINES

COLUMBUS. — "Here's your party's platform—here's the plan on suffrage. Break your pledge and the National Woman's party will follow on your presidential speaking tour this fall, Mr. Harding, and leave no clods unturned against a Republican election."

Such is the substance of a warning brought back from the picket lines at Chicago, by Mrs. James M. Rector, member of the national advisory board of the Woman's party and Dr. Gillette Hayden, Ohio state chairman, Monday.

"A pledge is nothing, we have had enough resolutions," said Mrs. Hayden. "The party to get our support must bring ratification—must give us the 36th state."

GOMPERS PLEADS
FOR TREATYLabor Leaders Declare U. S. Failure to Ratify is Pitiable

MONTREAL. — (By Associated Press). — It is "pitiable" that the United States has not ratified the league of nations, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared here in an address before the federation's convention. If the league covenant were submitted to the American people "without any other entangling questions, it would be overwhelmingly accepted," he said.

International organization of the world's union workers to further their aims and prevent another world war, was advocated by J. W. Ogden, fraternal delegate of the British trade union congress, Mr. Ogden, however, warned the federation that it must ignore any "international" similar to that formed in Russia and other countries.

"The international we can recognize is one that is founded on a right, proper and legal basis," he added. "The only way we will be able to prevent useless conflict is by linking the workers of the world into a great international organization."

The spirit of organization is sweeping England and the "non-nationalist" is almost extinct, in that country, Mr. Ogden asserted. He predicted that the British congress would have a membership of 6,000, 000 by next August, an increase of 1,000,000 members in 12 months.

TORONTO TO VOTE ON SUMMER TIME

TORONTO, Ont. — When the time for the annual arguments for and against daylight saving rolls around next spring the confusion of the first few years will be absent as the question as to whether this city will set its clocks ahead one hour for the summer of 1921 will have been decided in a regular municipal election.

The Board of Control has decided that it does not want to shoulder the blame coming from the farmers and others opposed to the daylight saving system and have set January 1 as a day on which the electors may decide for themselves.

Each and every day the convention was a "cut and dried affair." Every step was carefully planned, with blue print specifications, in advance. The slightest deviation from the fixed program threw the leaders into a panic. At one point, on Sunday, when a motion was unexpectedly offered for adjournment until the afternoon, to give the "fixers" a chance to make it assured that the nomination would go to Harding, Frank Willis and Myron T. Herrick rushed to the platform, where explanations were made and the motion prevailed. The Ohio delegation had not been apprised of what was about to transpire and was thrown into an uproar until an explanation was made. Men fumed and fought one another almost. A U. P. reporter, keen on the spot for big news, hopped onto the platform and when a big burly and self-important Illinois aide to the chairman attempted to throw him off the platform, the reporter jerked away and placed himself in a defensive attitude. His face livid with anger, saliva starting from between his teeth like foam, Senator Lodge,

PLOT CHARGED IN
WOMAN'S DEATHResults from Trial Following
Slaying of Mrs. M. A. King

ATTORNEYS ARE ACCUSED

Aim to Defeat Probate of Will, Claimed

NEW YORK. — (By Associated Press). — Suit for $1,000,000 damages was filed in federal court here Monday by attorneys for Gaston B. Means against District Attorney Edward Swann and Assistant District Attorney John T. Dooling.

The complaint charges the defendants with conspiring with officials of the Northern Trust Company of Chicago "to bribe and corrupt witnesses," to testify falsely against the plaintiff in his trial for murder of Mrs. Maud A. Robinson King and to defeat probate of the alleged last will of James C. King, of Chicago.

The alleged bribery and corruption was said to have been practiced during the trial of Means at Court, N. C. Means, who served as business agent for Mrs. King, was acquitted.

The complaint charges attempts by Swann and Dooling "to convict plaintiff of the crime of murder, and failing in this design, as they did, to bring about an atmosphere of truth and false and libelous publications furnished to the press by said defendants as would have the effect of discrediting the plaintiff as a witness in the trial of the probate of the will in the city of Chicago, the ultimate object of said conspiracy to be to defeat the probate of the said King will."

This will disposed of a $4,000,000 estate.

MAY BE RULED OUT

Legality of State Candidates' Entrance Questioned

COLUMBUS. — Whether the petition of Walter F. Brown, Toledo, who filed for the Republican nomination for United States Senator without accompanying his papers with the filing fee, will be held legal, may be decided Monday by Secretary of State Smith. Doubt has been cast on the petition by some officials.

Judge Smith said that he also will consider the petition of Harold C. Smith, Elyria, entrant for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, whom Statistician Johnson of the secretary's office has held must give a complete middle name. Harold C. Smith, Judge Smith's friend, claim, was entered to confuse voters.

ELIDA HOME PARTIALLY WRECKED BY LIGHTNING

ELIDA. — (Special). — The home of Mrs. Nancy Morris here was partially wrecked during the electrical storm Sunday afternoon, when lightning struck the house. The weather, boarding on one side of the house was torn off and the plastering shattered. No one was injured.

$6,000 RANSOM DEMANDED
BY SUPPOSED ABDUCTORS
OF THE COUGHLIN BABY

PHILADELPHIA. — Belief that they have heard from the abductor of little Blakeley Coughlin, 13-months old, kidnaped from his home in Norristown June 2, was expressed by the parents when a letter, postmarked Atlantic City, N. J., was received by them early Monday. The writer demanded $6,000 ransom. The Coughlins say they will deal with the sender privately when he furnishes the necessary proof he has the child.

HALFHILL SPEAKS
ON CONVENTIONTells Rotarians Americanism is Paramount Issue Today

Col. James W. Halfhill, delegate from this district to the convention, was given an ovation by Lima Rotary club at luncheon today, when he made a non-partisan word-picture of the great convention scene when Warren G. Harding was made the standard bearer of the republican party.

Col. Halfhill well reflects the glory achieved by his personal friend of many years. "At this time when the country is fraught with problems which must be solved, I ask you men of either party to carefully consider the platform of each party. Democracy may frame as solidly as have the republicans; I hope they will. We are facing a crisis and Americanism must be the answer," said Col. Halfhill.

"It was known Friday night that no one of the three leading candidates could be nominated; the first two because of the scandals regarding expenditures, the third for many reasons. Then came the general drift towards Harding, of Ohio, and it seemed that the very stars were marking him and truly that destiny shaped the end, to use in part of the old axiom. We have a man of character, a man of honesty, a man of judgment. I hope for as much from San Francisco."

Other guests included: M. W. Gannon, Birmingham; C. A. Hyde, Chicago; C. E. Hays, Cincinnati; James Hamilton, Washington, D. C.

WORLD FAMINE FOR 1924 IS PREDICTED

LONDON. — Possibilities of a world famine in 1924 are foreshadowed by Sir W. Beveridge, director of the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Exhausting investigations which he has just completed show that at intervals of between fifteen and sixteen years a weather crisis extending over two or three years occurs which first destroys the crops of the countries that need rain by withholding it, and then the crops of the countries which desire dry weather by sending excessive rains. The drought usually precedes the deluge, making death in India occur immediately before death in North America and England.

The experience of three centuries, he says, warns us to prepare for the probability that one or more of the years 1924, 1925 and 1926 may be marked by the most unseasonable weather, diminishing the yield of harvests, increasing food prices and possibly producing famines.

CUBAN CLUBS COMING

HAVANA. — Delegations from several Cuban Rotarian clubs will sail for New York Wednesday on invitation of New York Rotarians on a visit in the interest of trade between this country and the United States. The Cubans will take with them as souvenirs for New York Rotarians $,999 three ounce socks of sugar.

MAN DIES AFTER
COLLISIONMotorcyclists Racing Sunday
When Fatal Accident Occurs

SUFFERS INTERNAL INJURIES

Another Rider Severely Hurt in Collision

Clarence Lance, 32, living at 203 N. West-st., died yesterday afternoon at St. Rita's hospital, within three hours after he had collided with a fellow motorcyclist on the West-st. road.

He and a boy, Russell Penny-racker, 17, 122 N. Park-ave., are alleged to have been racing. They are said to have attempted to pass an automobile going in the same direction when the collision followed, throwing Lance and his machine fully 75 feet. The autoist, whose name could not be learned, took both of the motorcyclists to the hospital. Lance suffered severe internal injuries that practically wrenched his organs free it is said.

Penny-racker was not seriously hurt. He will be summoned before Judge Becker to answer to a charge of reckless driving. He was warned sometime ago, by the judge, to refrain from speeding, it is said.

Funeral services for the victim of the accident will be held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Mito Funk, 203 N. West-st., at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in Woodlawn.

The mother, a step-father and one sister, Mrs. Lucille Breucher of Lima, survive. Lance was employed as a driver for the Rapid Transit company of this city.

RIDER IS INJURED

John Stoner, 25, suffered severe injuries when he was thrown from a motorcycle Sunday on the High-st. road. He resided on the High-st. road, 5 miles east of Lima. Riding a motorcycle, he collided with a passing automobile, near the new reservoir. He was thrown 12 feet and struck a telephone pole. His left leg was crushed between the ankle and knee and he suffered scratches and bruises. Stoner was removed to the City hospital in the Long and Lowersock ambulance.

TWO INJURED IN CRASH OF HYDRO AEROPLANE

CINCINNATI. — Harold Clark, 3, of Newport, Ky., is suffering from an arm fracture and George W. Bruner, 27, former army aviator, of Akron, O., is in the army hospital at Fort Thomas, recovering from injuries received Sunday when a hydro-aeroplane was wrecked in starting a flight for Akron. Clark, 25, former army aviator, also of Akron, who was piloting the plane when it struck an electric light pole in trying to dodge the L. and N. railroad bridge over the Ohio river, escaped with bruises.

TRIES TO ASSASSINATE
PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

SANTIAGO, Chile. — An attempt to assassinate Arturo Alessandri, presidential candidate of the Liberal Alliance, occurred Monday morning. Three shots were fired at him but he was uninjured. He was speaking from the balcony of his house when the shots were fired. His son, rushing to the assailant, disturbed the would-be assassin's aim. Guarantees for the life of senators have been asked of the supreme court by the executive committee of the alliance.

Friends of Ellwell, according to Assistant Attorney John F. Joyce, are unanimous in the belief that it was a man and not a woman who fired the revolver.

The murdered man is reported to have left $200,000 to his 16-year-old son, Richard Ellwell, who was estranged from his wife.

LAFOLLETTE MAY HEAD TICKETAmos Pinchot Gives Out Statement At Chicago

DECLARES BOLT IS CERTAIN

Progressives Driven Out of Councils, He Says

CHICAGO. — (By Associated Press). — Declaration by Amos Pinchot, member of the committee of 48, that there positively would be a new party presidential candidate in the field, rumors that Senator LaFollette would head a ticket as presidential candidate, and announcement that the campaign in behalf of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee, would be started promptly were the outstanding developments following the Republican national convention.

The statement by Mr. Pinchot declared that the "Republican party has driven out of representation in its councils the millions of voters who followed Roosevelt, Johnson and LaFollette and that the new party will represent these voters and present a definite and constructive program."

Reports concerning Senator LaFollette's possible candidacy were less clearly defined and in some instances were linked with declarations made in behalf of this committee of 48.

Harry M. Daugherty, pre-convention campaign manager for Senator Harding, began preparations for the presidential nominee's campaign by requesting the national committee to take "prompt, snappy and energetic action in placing the merits of the Republican issues before the voters of the country."

Party managers, it was said, will start the campaign soon after the Democratic convention is held and would not wait until Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge are officially notified of their nomination.

CONVENTION CALLED

CHICAGO. — (By United Press). — A third political party, to contest in the coming presidential campaign, will be launched here July 10.

The committee of 48 issued the call for the convention. The call declares candidates for the presidency, vice-presidency, senate and members of state tickets will be in the field. Senator LaFollette has been mentioned as a prospective candidate for the presidential nomination.

HUNT MURDER CAR

Police Seek Clues in New York
Mystery

NEW YORK. — (By United Press). — Every garage in Manhattan was being searched Monday in an effort to find the mystery automobile that police claim stood before the door of Joseph Brown Ellwell, wealthy sportsman and whist expert, on Friday morning at the time he was murdered. Police checked up on all taxicab calls of the evening before and the morning of the slaying.

Friends of Ellwell, according to Assistant Attorney John F. Joyce, are unanimous in the belief that it was a man and not a woman who fired the revolver.

The murdered man is reported to have left $200,000 to his 16-year-old son, Richard Ellwell, who was estranged from his wife.

AFTERMATH OF THE G. O. P. CONVENTION AS SEEN BY J. W. FISHER

Naturally, the nomination of Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, for the presidency on the Republican ticket is a pleasurable one to all Ohioans of whatever political faith. For the very good reason that state pride is strong within every citizen. And then for the most part Republicans who have served as president, were presidents of a weak and inefficient course. Harding isn't elected. "There's many a slip," etc., that applies in politics as well as in other things.

Sam Fletcher, well known business man of this city, who headed the national convention at Chicago was perhaps one of the happiest men who visited the Windy City. If there's any one thing that pleases Mr. Fletcher more than another, it is to attend a convention. How he secured possession of a secret at the badge which gave him entry to the floor of the convention, Mr. Fletcher didn't explain when questioned. He merely said, "Oh, I got it." Mr. Fletcher was a guest, part of the time, at the home of his son.

Saturday noon a few hours before the convention reconvened for the last time, James W. Halfhill, 4th district delegate from Allen Co., was encountered in the cool basement of the Coliseum, seeking to secure relief temporarily from the intense heat and in the course of a conversation Mr. Halfhill assured the Daily News and Times-Democrat correspondent that Harding would be the nominee. Assurances of the same nature had previously been given by Myron T. Herrick, Harry Daugherty and Frank Willis, leaders of the Ohio delegation. After it became apparent that only one thing could prevent the naming of the Ohioan, the telegram that apprised Linnaite, by medium of the News and Times-Democrat bulletins, that Harding would be chosen, "was released, the first authentic news of that character from the seat of operations. A bulletin filed early Saturday morning at Chicago paved the way for the final flash. The only danger of failure for Harding was a combination of the Wood and Lowden forces.

Said Arthur Brisbane, well known Hearst writer to W. J. Bryan, in the press section at the Coliseum Saturday morning, when it became apparent that Lowden, Wood or Johnson could not win: "Had it not been for the convention, Wood could have easily won the nomination."

Proctor's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win. Likewise, the disclosure that Lowden delegates had been bought at $2,500 rendered it impossible for the Illinoisan to win and when Max Baer's contribution to the Wood primary campaign drew the vitriolic fire of the Hearst publications, under the direction of the genius of Brisbane and the cry was taken up by Johnson and Borah, who succeeded in making it impossible for Wood to win.

Each and every day the convention was a "cut and dried affair." Every step was carefully planned, with blue print specifications, in advance. The slightest deviation from the fixed program threw the leaders into a panic. At one point, on Sunday, when a motion was unexpectedly offered for adjournment until the afternoon, to give the "fixers" a chance to make it assured that the nomination would go to Harding, Frank Willis and Myron T. Herrick rushed to the platform, where explanations were made and the motion prevailed. The Ohio delegation had not been apprised of what was about to transpire and was thrown into an uproar until an explanation was made. Men fumed and fought one another almost. A U. P. reporter, keen on the spot for big news, hopped onto the platform and when a big burly and self-important Illinois aide to the chairman attempted to throw him off the platform, the reporter jerked away and placed himself in a defensive attitude. His face livid with anger, saliva starting from between his teeth like foam, Senator Lodge, threw the Ohio delegation into a panic momentarily and drew down upon his discontented head the wrath of the fellow Indiana delegates. It was just when Harding was making his gallop and the nomination was galloping in his direction that Hynicka and Myers Cooper, Albert Bode and John J. Burchenal, elected as Harding delegates, joined with the willful name Wood delegates from Ohio, Ohio on that ballot giving Harding only 33 and Wood 13. Members of other delegations who were steadily coming to Harding were unable to follow the Ohio section to ascertain why such methods had been employed. Hynicka explained that he sought to entice Wood votes for Harding on the next ballot by the maneuver. But the Harding loyalists were unconvinced and Hynicka and his Cincinnati crew are in an odious position from which it will be difficult for them to extricate themselves if indeed it can be done at all. Hynicka's coup failed. It was a clever move, but it resulted in forcing the Wood men to go over to Harding in the show down the Ohioan getting the state's 28 votes.

"How, in your opinion," the Daily News and Times-Democrat correspondent asked W. J. Bryan Saturday afternoon just before the final day of the convention, "will the nomination of Harding by the Republicans affect the candidacy of Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, for the Democratic nomination; would it force his withdrawal as a matter of necessity or would it aid him?" Here is the "Columbus" answer: "If anything, it would improve his chances, as in my opinion, in that event it would become imperative for the Democrats to nominate Cox if they expected to carry Ohio in the election." Approached by a New York townswoman and asked for a statement about the convention, Bryan said: "You may say that we the Democrats expect to defeat anyone the Republicans nominate here today. Bryan isn't at all satisfied with the declaration of the Republican platform affecting the dry cause. The Nebraskaan thinks and acts only in prohibition terms, measuring men and planks by that standard.

Republicans and Democrats alike, for the most part among the hundreds of newspapermen who attended the Republican convention, voiced practically the same sentiment concerning the Chicago show. That it was a cold blooded, cheerless thing the platform weak and indecisive and filled only with "It can be done," "It should be done," and "It may be done." That this atmosphere was all too apparent. Every move was exactly according to program. The slightest variation started a perfect panic. "It was a stupid exhibition," one of the newsmen remarked. Another said: "It has strengthened the cause of the Democratic party. Out-

(Continued on Page 2)

LIMA ELKS SHOW PATRIOTISM

Celebrate Flag Day at Park Despite Showers that Fell

The heavy shower which fell Sunday afternoon, did not affect the patriotic program staged by Lima Lodge 54, D. P. O. E. at Faurst park, as the shelter house at the park had been elaborately decorated for the affair in the lodge colors, purple and white. Members of the lodge assembled at the Elks Home at 1:30 o'clock and in flag draped automobiles made their way to the park, preceded by the Elks band in full dress uniform.

The service was opened by a bugle call, and the introductory exercises were opened by Exalted Ruler J. T. Kaufman. J. W. Hall, past exalted ruler, gave an interesting history of the flag, and of the annual observance of Flag Day, June 14th is the anniversary of the date in 1777 when the Continental Congress adopted the present style of flag, and that day has been more or less generally observed since 1849. The 1898 Lodge annually conducts a ritualistic service in commemoration of this day.

J. H. O'Connor was the speaker for the afternoon, and paid a worthy tribute to the American flag. A musical program of patriotic and southern airs concluded the afternoon's service.

FORMER LIMA RESIDENT IN CITY AS DEFENDANT IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

Wallace A. Gaines, negro undertaker, Evansville, Ind., was in Lima Monday as defendant in a suit in common pleas court.

Gaines is just back from the Chicago convention, where he sat as delegate in place of Governor Goodrich of Indiana. He is one of the active Republicans of the Hoosier state.

During the administration of McKinley, he was revenue collector of Kentucky. He is grand master of Indiana Colored Odd Fellows. Gaines was a former Lima resident and owns property in this city.

FLOWER DAY ENJOYED BY INFIRMARY PATIENTS

The annual observance of Flower Day by members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Sunday afternoon at the county infirmary. There was a good attendance, and a large number of flowers were taken to the sick patients at the infirmary. A short program consisting of musical numbers and recitations was given. Rev. Kyle Reith of the First Congregational church gave a short address. Following the program, the patients at the infirmary were treated to ice cream by the ladies in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Lovetta Durbin was chairman for the afternoon.

JUDGMENT CONFESSED

Maude E. and Grover Lear confessed judgment in court Monday in favor of Oren Dickason, Bathing, for $450.70, being the amount due on a note of $125.

LIMA K. OF C. ATTEND RALLY AT MINSTER

A large delegation of members of Lima Council 437, Knights of Columbus attended the initiation services of a class of 75 candidates at Minster, Sunday. This is the first class in that town, as previously all of the members belonged to councils in nearby cities. The second degrees were conferred Sunday afternoon by Past District Deputy Don Krabach and staff of Wapakoneta, assisted by District Deputy John H. Meyer.

The third degree was exemplified by Hon. William Hauso and staff of Delaware and Walter Johnson and staff of Kenton. A banquet for about 500 knights followed the initiation ceremonies.

ADMINISTRATRIX NAMED

Mrs. Dora E. Harpster, widow, West Cairo, was appointed administratrix of the estate of her husband, Thomas Harpster, in probate court Monday. The property consists of $1,500 in personal effects and $1,500 in real estate. C. E. Craig, John T. Cotner and George H. Quail were appointed appraisers.

DEAF MUTE LECTURES

Rev. C. W. Charles of Columbus, addressed an audience of deaf mutes at the Episcopal church in Lima Saturday night. His subject was taken from a short story entitled "The Girl From Orchard Street."

BOY SCOUTS CELEBRATE

The eight troops of boy scouts in Lima celebrated flag day at Faurst park Monday afternoon. Competitions from every troop in the city were entered for the eight events provided to be given the members. Staleness, handsome prizes were provided to be given the members of the winning teams.

BUDGETS BEING FIGURED

Heads of the city departments are now figuring what their expenses are to be for the last half of the year. Forms for preparing estimates were distributed Monday by City Auditor David L. Rupert, and must be returned not later than June 28. Rupert said, to be presented to the finance committee of the city council for action at the first council meeting in July.

For Breakfast
Ready-to-eat—the meat of wheat and malted barley

Grape-Nuts
A nourishing food that provides at small cost the essentials nature requires to keep the body in trim.
At grocers everywhere

THE CORE NO MORE

NATION

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 1.—Lima citizens, including Chief of Police Edgar Smith and Sheriff Herbert Miles, left before Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis Monday for trial on charges of violating the Reed Amendment.

QUINCY, Ill.—As result of domestic trouble and jealousy, Mrs. Clyde Humphrey, 18, is shot by her husband and dies five minutes later.

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Ella Johnson, 71, falls seven stories to her death from window of Beresford hotel here.

MORRISTOWN, N. J.—Mrs. Arthur Whitner loses $50,000 in gems as she is returning from Chicago convention.

CHICAGO.—Three die from intense heat in Chicago Sunday.

GREGG CITY, Ore.—A three piece jazz orchestra formed here is led by a bootlegger, Giovanni Glavinich.

WORLD

BERLIN.—One hundred and ninety-three Hungarian miners are killed by explosion of dynamite depot at Anina, in Hungarian mining district.

BERLIN.—Women lost 14 seats in German Reichstag, in last election. Assembly had 18 women members. Only 22 are elected in last election.

MEXICO CITY.—Trial of General Francisco Murguía on charges of abusing his military power by authorizing pillaging has been ordered by the provisional government.

WARSAW.—Kiev is evacuated by Polish forces.

LONDON.—Five thousand prisoners, 27 guns and five armored trains are captured from the Bolsheviks by General Wrangel, successor to Denikin.

TOKYO.—Keio University basketball team defeated University of Chicago team here by a score of 1 to 0.

STATE

PORT CLINTON.—Harry Brown, one of three prisoners who escaped from county jail, returned here from Cleveland. Eddie Lewis, who escaped with Brown, is in Cleveland with fractured leg.

CINCINNATI.—Two aviators and boy injured when hydroplane fell at Newport. Ky. H. G. Jones and George W. Brunner, the aviators, both of Akron, and Harold Clark, of Newport, who was struck by machine as it hit ground, taken to hospital.

RAIN IS TIMELY

Refreshing Showers Benefit Country and City

The showers of Sunday and those which reached the country surrounding Lima Monday benefited farmers to the extent of thousands of dollars. More rain fell in the country surrounding Lima than in the city Sunday. Farmers are jubilant over the coming of rain.

Small plants were fairly blistered by the hot sun and drought and even would have withered and died, had rain and farm products suffered alike for a cooling, refreshing shower.

Lawns which had not the advantage of spraying were drying up and dying. The rain will prevent much of this and start everything toward new life.

COLLETT SEWER IS HINDERED

Contractor Finds "Unfavorable" Soil at Elm-St

The contractors on the big Collett sewer are again facing unfavorable conditions. This time it is at the intersection of Elm, where the soil, which has heretofore been a stiff clay almost from the surface down has gradually changed to a water-bearing sand, according to Consulting Engineer Darling. This makes it almost impossible to maintain the sidewalk of the ditch until shooting and boring can be placed.

The clay has now dropped almost to the bottom of the sewer, Darling said, and unless the condition improves it may be necessary to put in a special foundation by driving piles, or placing some other substantial material.

The trouble experienced in obtaining material is gradually becoming better. A car of vitrified brick arrived and was being unloaded Monday Darling said.

THREE ENLISTED

Three new recruits were enlisted at the local army recruiting station and sent Monday afternoon to their various destinations. They are: Edward Bengeman, Kalida Tih Carney, Camp Grant, Ill.; James Adams, Lima school at Camp Grant, Ill.; Lawrence L. Miller, Lima, three years, Second Infantry.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Elmo M. Alberts, 28, druggist, Mountville, Ohio, and M. Gail Haines, 23, teacher, 330 W. Springfield.

Oon Orval Patrick, 22, car repairer, 201 Eldred-ave and Laura Smith, 22, 331 W. Kibby-st.

TRIAL IS STARTED

Trial of Miss Helen Cox, real estate agent, against Wallace A. Gaines, Evansville, Ind., for $225 commission for selling real estate, was begun before Judge Klinger and a jury in common pleas court Monday. The jury took the case for deliberation late Monday afternoon.

NEW DAUGHTER ARRIVES

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Don T. Johnson, 816 Erie-ave, was brightened Sunday by the arrival of an eight pound girl. John, manager of the victrola department of the E. S. Porter & Son Music House.

AFTERMATH OF G. O. P. SHOW

(Continued From Page 1)

was ready to light the fuse that would set off the fireworks should Wood and his men endeavor to start something by a combination. The "steering committee" the night before the nomination, considered Hughes, Sprout, Coolidge, Butler and others, but arrived at the conclusion that Harding was the only man it would be at all safe to name. Harding was in a committee room back of the platform when Pennsylvania threw his big vote to the Ohioan for they had been released by Governor Sprout, putting Harding "across." A floor leader ran into the committee room where the perspiring and anxious Senator was sitting and exclaimed "Mr. Harding, you are nominated!" As he rushed from the Coliseum to be whisked away to his hotel in an auto, Harding said: "Boys, I am proud of it."

From the bedside of Boies Penrose, Pennsylvania Republican chieftain came a telephone message to John Kline, his lieutenant at the scene of the battle, that Harding would be satisfactory to him. That clinched it. The word was passed out and despite the fact that Penrose illness is of such a character that it is reported that he cannot survive more than a few weeks at the most, his hand directed the action of the convention on Friday, when the name of Boies Penrose was mentioned, the delegates for the most part stood and cheered, indicating that the "Old Lion" of the Republican party, under the most bitter age in the time of his activities and a leader whose tactics are warlike, still held a place in the affections of many in his party. Penrose is the representative of big business and the combines.

Ten times the delegation of 26 from Wisconsin gave 24 of its votes to Senator Robert M. La Follette of that state for president and ten times the vast crowd of delegates and visitors cheered and cheered. Wisconsin gave one vote to Wood and one to Hoover until the last ballot, when one was shifted to Harding. Altho Leonard of Wisconsin was a candidate for vice president, the Bigger and delegation gave his vote to Senator Taft of North Dakota. "That radical bunch from Wisconsin sure are slickers," was the comment of opinion in the press section. "This convention is making holeys and nickles by the thousands," was another remark. "That big interest were in the saddle from start to finish in all the important things," said one of the delegates. "Why," said one of the delegates, "it would cut off Lodge's right arm he wouldn't bleed a drop."

Before the adjournment of the convention Saturday evening, women suffragists, disgusted with the stand taken by the Republicans, hung a large banner from one of the galleries on which appeared these words: "Why does the Republican party bench suffrage? We do not want planks. We demand the 36th state." And the large number of women with peaceful banners who picked the Coliseum during the week, appeared with banners with this inscription: "Vote against the Republican party as long as it is against suffrage." There is no comfort for the suffragists in the platform plank adopted.

"They can't move too fast to suit me while going in that direction," said W. J. Bryan as the delegates were flocking to Harding. "There is an open switch ahead." The Nebraskaan realized that the Republicans were doing the only thing they could do under the circumstances, to prevent a veritable Roosevelt split again occurring and he also realized that no matter what was done, with such a weak and insane platform, even Warren G. Harding, the acknowledged "middle of the reader," but acceptable to big business, can scarcely get anywhere, tied down as he is. And it is more than likely that he will with delight the opportunity the delegates will afford him to wiggle out of progressive situations if he is elected—which he probably won't be if labor has its say.

To avoid all controversy as to the exact time when Warren G. Harding became the nominee of the Republican party for president, it is here stated that the hands of the clock pointed to exactly 15 minutes after 6 o'clock on Saturday, June 12, 1920, when the leader of the Pennsylvania delegation threw that state to the Ohioan, putting him across. The existence of nine votes in the Ohio delegation for Wood was disconnected to the Harding force, but they met steel with steel and when Ben Hynek attempted to weaken Harding at a critical time, his effort failed. Hynek will be long remembered for his treachery, and one of the big sensations of the convention, few as they were, Harding owes much to Frank R. Willis for his success before the convention. It was Willis who presented the name of the Ohioan. With a fact that was commendable, Willis Friday facing the delegates after they had been reduced to a mental and physical state that was a perfect torment by the intense heat and the wild statements of men in presenting the names of other candidates—Willis departed almost altogether from his set speech and very briefly, concisely and dramatically presented the name of Harding, getting his hearers in good humor, delivering just the right sort of speech and then stopping. After a particularly dramatic statement, his arms beating the air like pump handles, Willis paused, smiled and while perfect, not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

The real story of the Chicago convention, in all its details—the facts of manipulation under cover of committee rooms in the night season may never be told. The steam roller, well oiled and running smooth, proved a juggernaut for many candidates and for many measures. Senator Henry (Cabbage) Lodge, cold and calculating, with all the sardonic of a czar in handling the convention, carried out the orders from "higher up" with a precision that admitted of no possibility of a revision of the set program. It should be remembered, as an act of charity, that all of the things done in Chicago were not approved by the rank and file of the delegates. In fact, there was much to anger and disgust many men loyal to the party. Colonel James W. Halfhill, admittedly one of the clearest cut and honest men in his party, viewed with concern and alarm the manipulations of the old guard. He was glad when it was all over and Harding had been chosen. While not a unit in the "inner circle" of the convention, the Lima man could tell an interesting story of the show—and probably will.

"There are tricks in all trades save curs, and ours are all tricks," quoth a politician from California as he saw the chances of the favorite son of the Golden State dwindling away like a snowball before a July sun. Several hundred boosters from California journeyed to Chicago with him and saw him harpooned, lamed, poached, hamstringed and dried. The taste in their mouths on return trip home was worse than that of green olives. They probably took more interest in the Democratic convention in Frisco than they did in their own. Who knows?

It was a toss-up as to which one of candidates, Johnson or Wood, Teddy Roosevelt would have favored had he been living when this convention was held. Governor Allen of Kansas claimed more of it for Johnson. Wheeler made a mess of the whole thing. He actually claimed that Johnson was "ordained by God" to lead the Republicans to victory. He was hoisted and jeered but plowed along unflinching of a little thing like that, alienating the delegates from the interests of his candidate in a manner that was pitiful. He had a speech to deliver and he delivered it in full, by heck! Had he stuck to the text of his speech as written previously, a riot would have resulted. Willis was more tactful. Instead of hinting that the Ohioan's friends would desert if he wasn't nominated, Willis said: "No matter who is nominated here today, Ohio will be back of him." Referring to Roosevelt, Willis said: "There was only one Roosevelt and he left no successor."

PATRIOTIC ORDERS WILL HONOR FLAG MONDAY NIGHT AT MEMORIAL HALL

Members of Lima's patriotic societies including the G. A. R. Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Veterans, American Legion and local cavalry troop will participate in the exercises to be held Monday evening at Memorial Hall in commemoration of Flag Day. These three days, Saturday June 12th, "Neighbors Day," Sunday, June 13, "Community Sunday," and Monday June 14, "Flag Day," have been observed this year all over the nation.

Monday night's program will be opened with a selection by the G. A. R. drum corps. Brief talks will be given by the commanders of the various patriotic societies. A quartette from the Daughters of Veterans will give several selections, and in addition a number of vocal and instrumental solos have been arranged.

Rev. Franklin Stiles will give the address of the evening, which will be of a patriotic nature. The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises.

CLARISSA BELLE HOWBERT IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Clarissa Belle Howbert, 51, wife of John W. Howbert, Perry, Ind., died at the City hospital, Monday morning, after an illness of several years from a complication of

GOOD PHILOSOPHY BY ROGERS

Take Things as They Come, His Creed for Living

JOYCE PICTURE PLEASING

Appearing in "The Sporting Duchess"—Other News

(BY ESTHER WAGNER.)

If we'd all follow the philosophy of Will Rogers and take things just as they come, even tho they aren't always pleasant things, the world would be a happier and a better place to live in, don't you think? In his newest picture "The Strange Boarder," appearing at the Regent, Mr. Rogers is robbed, mistreated, accused wrongly and a dozen other things, but that smile of his never disappears, and in the end of course, he wins out.

This picture brings to the public Will Rogers' little son, Jimmie, who promises fair to be a chip off the old block. He has the same bland blue eyes, the same smile and the same shuffling gait, and he's the dearest youngster in the movies. He has an important part in the picture and appears almost as much as his dad.

As to the picture itself, it's a story about a man who comes from the West to accept a position. The first thing he does is to lose his wad of money to a couple of crooks. He doesn't land the job he hopes to land, and he seems to have no luck getting another one. Then the vagaries of fate throw him in with a group of gamblers, and when a murder is committed, he's the man who is jailed for it. And all the time he had a perfectly good alibi, but he was too gentlemanly to involve the name of the girl, and so he would rather go to the pen for it. Noble, wasn't it?

The feminine leads are Doris Pavn and Irene Rich, and both do creditable work. It is a very interesting picture, and best of all, it's not one of these slushy, squashy love stories. It's just a human picture, and that's why it is good.

Of the hundreds of beautiful and talented female stars of moviedom, there doesn't seem to be many who can compare to Alice Joyce when it comes REAL acting. In "The Sporting Duchess," at the Lyric, she handles her part as no one else could handle it, and tho it is built practically on the same lines as all the rest of her pictures, it is unusual.

Percy Marmont is the husband, who, tho loving his wife devotedly, is willing to believe the worst of her, and when she is inveigled into a scandal, thru no fault of her own, he promptly divorces her and the court gives him the custody of the little boy. The plot then centers around "Clipstone," a racing horse, who is entered in the annual Derby races. And on the outcome of the race depends the fate of the Duchess. Yes, the husband and wife are reunited, the villain is apprehended, but not till a number of exciting things happen, among which is the race itself. At first the picture seems rather confused and there is an extraordinary number of characters to keep track of. The interior and racing scenes are beautiful and the piece goes off without a hitch. Isn't it queer about Percy Marmont? At the beginning of the show you feel like throwing something at him and in the end, you're for him strongly and even if there are a few things that you don't relish, you forget them all in the splendid acting and personality of Alice Joyce.

MAJESTIC.
Clara Kimball Young plays the title role in Maurice Tourneur's "Trilby," at the Majestic for the last times today.

ROYAL.
The Royal is showing "The River's End."

FAUROT.
Marguerite Clark is the star in "All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy," at the Faurot today.

With the tying run on third in the ninth innig, Shannon fouled out and Washington lost to the Browns 8 to 7.

The Cards mauled three Brooklyn pitchers for 15 hits and won ten to two.

Three runs off Hamilton in the eighth inning gave the Braves a 3 to 0 victory over the Pirates.

TRAVELING.
Marie Walcamp is in China com-

MAJESTIC

TODAY

Clara Kimball Young

—IN—

"TRILBY"

Also FATTY ARBUCKLE in

"THE COOK"

ORPHEUM

Summer Season Starting

WEDNESDAY,

-JUNE 16-

CONTINUOUS 1 P. M. 10 11 P. M.

PHOTO - PLAYS

All Special Features, Opening with the Great Star

N A Z I M O V A

PRESENTING

"THE BRAT"

Added Attractions

FOX SUNSHINE COMEDY

LATEST NEWS REEL

Ladies' Symphony Orchestra

ADMISSION

Afternoons, Adults 10c and 20c

Evenings, 20c and 30c

Children 10c Any Seat Any Time

Just say Hires
if you want the genuine — in bottles for the home at soda fountains and on draught

—::: LYRIC —:::

The Home of Wonder Music

TODAY AND TOMORROW

EVERYBODY'S FAVORITE

ALICE JOYCE

IN THE FAMOUS DRURY LANE MELODRAMA

"The Sporting Duchess"

—ADDED FEATURE—

JIMMY AUBREY in a two act Big V Comedy

"SQUEAKS AND SQUAWKS"

Fair Shoe Prices Insured to You

Style for style, grade for grade, our shoes are sold on an economy basis, as comparison of value will prove. Even now, good shoes are lower in proportion than other apparel, and prices represent the utmost in value and service today.

GOODING'S
FINE FOOTWEAR
230 N. MAIN ST.
LIMA, OHIO.

pleting a serial to be called "The Dragon's Net."
She started it in Japan.
Her next serial is scheduled to be made in India.

FAUROT FINAL TODAY
MARGUERITE CLARK
In a New Paramount Comedy
"All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy"

FAUROT OPERA HOUSE NOW
BRYANT
WASHBURN
In Wm. Gillette's Comedy
"TOO MUCH JOHNSON"
THE PATHE NEWS
Mack Sennett's New Comedy
"Fresh From the City"

REGENT

FINAL SHOWING TODAY
Matinee 20c; Evening 30c

WILL ROGERS

"The Strange Boarder"

ALSO
CHRISTIE COMEDY—NEWS

STARTING TOMORROW
Clara Kimball YOUNG

—IN—
"Eyes of Youth"

MISS YOUNG'S FIRST SPECIAL PRODUCTION

ENGRAVERS AND ARTISTS
DRAWINGS & ILLUSTRATIONS FOR ALL PURPOSES
HALF TONES - ZINC ETCHINGS - ELECTROTYPE
The LIMA PHOTOENGRAVING CO.
111 1/2 W. NORTH ST. LIMA, OHIO PHONE M. 3432
THE HOUSE OF CO-OPERATION

HOME GROWN WHEAT

HOME CAPITAL

HOME LABOR

MAKE

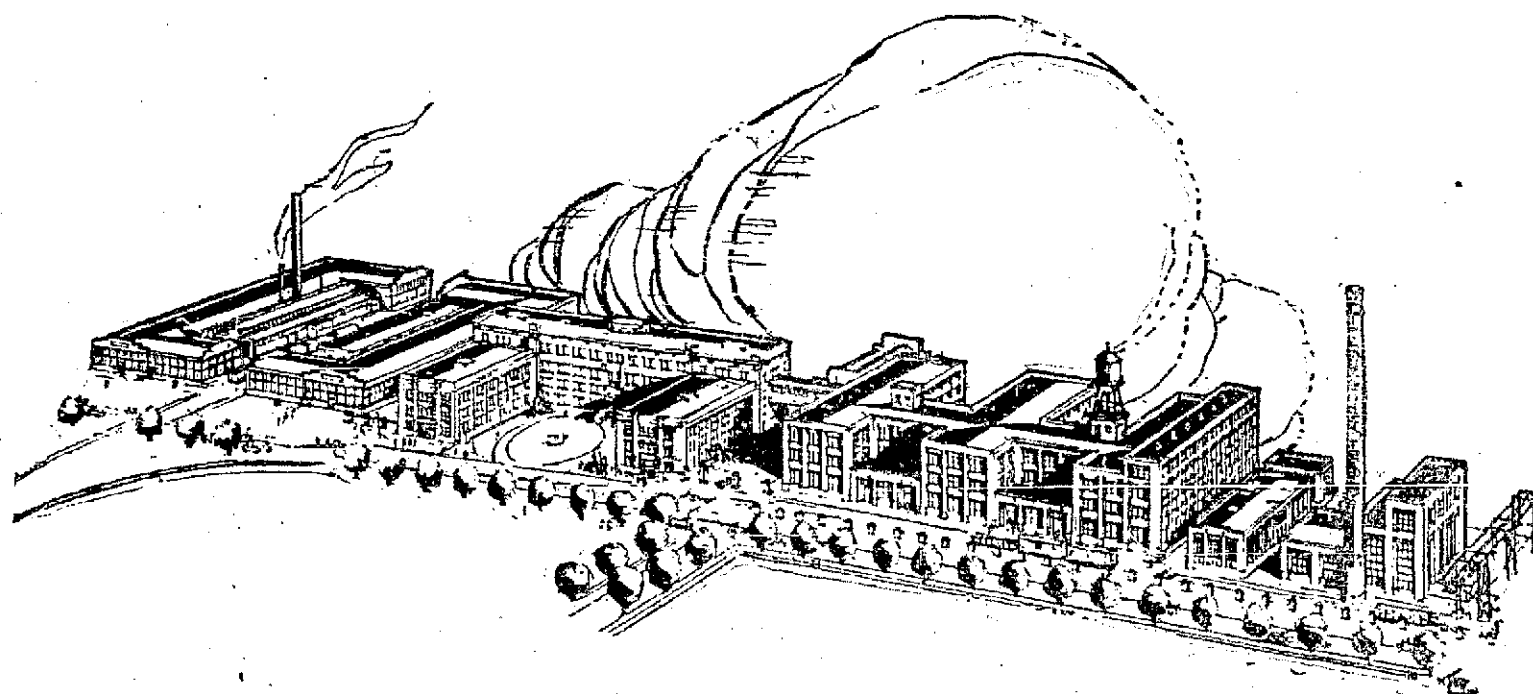

Pride of Lima Flour

MODEL MILLS

LIMA, OHIO.

"Erie Cords"

12,000 Miles Guaranteed

Invest in a Company Already Prosperous

MANY a person invests in a company when it is starting with faith that the company will succeed and the original investors will reap the benefit. But it is very seldom that you have an occasion permitting you to invest at par in a young company that has ALREADY achieved success.

"Erie Cords" are being bought all over the country and The Erie Tire and Rubber Company is fully established as a successful, growing concern. The demand for its tires exceeds the capacity of the present factory. It is simply good business judgment to take advantage of orders that are actually offered to us. To take care of the rapid expansion in sales we must make more tires; therefore we have planned additional buildings and the steel is already erected for our main building and one wing is completed. Adjoining our plant is a splendid modern factory and complete machine shop for heavy work. Here we could make our own molds and much of our tire making machinery. This gives you your opportunity—the increase in capitalization allows you to invest in this prosperous company of proved record.

You Can Buy Erie Preferred (7%) & Common At Par

You know you cannot EARN a fortune—your savings must be highly and safely productive. Realize this—for every $100 you can buy one 7% preferred, Cumulative Erie Share. It is tax-free in Ohio, and with it you get the right to buy two $10 shares of Erie common at par. What are rubber companies earning? One company just declared a big stock melon of 150 per cent and rights on $30,000,000 new capital stock! We have made over 10,000 tires and The Erie factory is already on a paying basis. You have the opportunity to buy preferred and common shares at par in a big tire company whose product is admired by the trade. This is too good to allow it to pass by unheeded—you ought to have full details before you. The coupon will bring them—there is no obligation—mail it.

The ERIE TIRE & RUBBER Co.

Guardian Building Cleveland, Ohio
Factory at Sandusky, Ohio

The First Thing to Do!

Get information and investigate the opportunity that is offered you. This is not a company that "expects" to do certain things; it has already done them and now seeks to expand. Send in this coupon and let us tell you all about the remarkable progress that has been made.

MAIL THIS COUPON

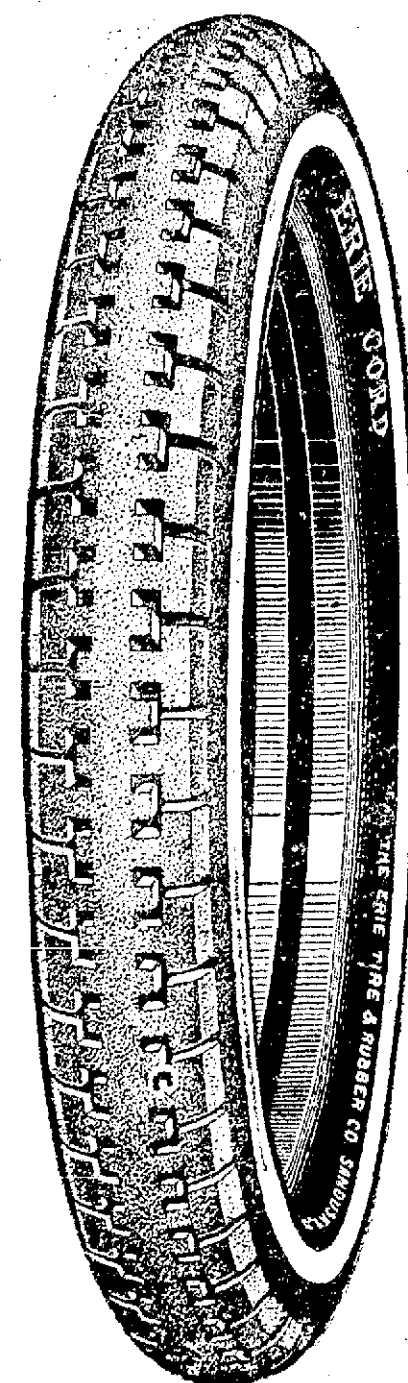

The Erie Tire & Rubber Company, Cleveland.

Give me the facts on your company and the opportunity for sound investment.

Name

Address

City KEY NO. L I-1

By mail, out of of city—one year $5. By carrier 15 c per week.

THE LIMA NEWS

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT
PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE NEWS BUILDING, 121 E. HIGH STREET
BY THE NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY

Entered at postoffice at Lima as second class mail matter.

G. O. P. AND LABOR

HARDLY had the republican convention made its choice before organized labor announced clearly its stand on the platform adopted and the man to carry the standard. From the expression of the vice president of the American Federation of Labor and those of Samuel Gompers during the convention, it may be seen that labor is not enthusiastic over the republican action; in fact is opposed to it.

"They started out to do a reactionary job and now they have finished it," is the statement the selection of Senator Harding brought forth. The platform contains a few things it is not probable labor will become reconciled to and with the national organization at odds with the platform and the candidate, the G. O. P. will have a big handicap to overcome in the November election.

On the other hand, the democrats have a number of candidates who are acceptable to labor and the choice of almost any of the leaders now would not meet with the opposition the republicans are experiencing. Especially is this true of Governor James M. Cox, the man most likely to be called upon to carry the banner of democracy in the greatest fight Ohio has ever seen—a fight in which two Ohioans are pitted against each other for the highest honors in this republic.

Governor Cox has always been a friend of labor. He came from the laboring class as also did Senator Harding, but Cox has made a record for sincerity and service to the working man none can find fault with. Thru him some of the most beneficial laws ever enacted for the workman have been passed. If these two Ohio leaders are the choice of their respective parties the decision of labor is already made.

A "PLATFORMLESS PARTY"

THIS year the United States is witnessing the spectacle of a formerly great political party entering a campaign without a platform—or in reality a platform that contains only one decision. In a total of 6,396 words the Republican platform adopted at Chicago says more and means less. The pronouncement is so extended that few will ever read it and few newspapers will afford the space to publish it. As a literary product it will sink into oblivion—for it means nothing.

Aside from the league of nations plank, which Senator Johnson forced, and kept himself out of the nomination thereby, the platform has little or no significance. In fact, the league plank is in itself vague and capable of different constructions. Saying much, meaning little, a jumble of words—that's the Republican platform.

Against its 6,396 words, the ten commandments contain 297 words and they have not been improved upon in 3,000 years. The Declaration of Independence, previous and important document that it was and is, contains only 1,321 words. Lincoln's Gettysburg address, a literary gem, contained 266 words. The sermon on the mount had 2,455 words. Matthew described the crucifixion in 1,200 words. The Republican platform this year has more words than the constitution of the United States—4,291.

Upon three important questions this year the Republican platform doesn't say anything one way or another—proletarianism, prohibition and the soldiers' bonus.

It is indeed a great platform—NOT.

"SAYING IT WITH FLOWERS"

ALTHO commercialized, to a certain extent, the saying quoted and used as a caption herewith, still retains all the fine sentiment that inspired it originally.

This, in fine, is the expression of a splendid thought given in four words. Nature's choice bloom are welcome visitors any time, anywhere—in sickness and in health. Too often they are employed in the expression of sympathy after death has come; when the eyes of the weary traveler who has passed this way are closed, when the sense of smell is gone, when the ability to appreciate is absent. Therefore, it is better to give flowers while the recipient is in life and can appreciate them, than to wait until death has come.

And there are "flowers" other than nature's bloom. Kind words, thoughtful deeds, little acts of charity and compassion—expressions of love and devotion, cheering the way. These, too, are more acceptable to the living than all the kind words or acts that are offered after the soul has departed from its abode of clay.

In this spirit and acting on the commendable impulse that prompted it, the W. C. T. U. Sunday observed flower day at the Allen-co Home. Unfortunates, whose vision of life is perhaps not so wide or whose interest in existence not so abundant as allotted to others, were made happy in being presented with flowers and a treat, with music and song and kind words and good cheer.

There should be more and more of this sort of thing. God's unfortunates, the ill, the aged and infirm, the cripples, the shut-ins, should not be forgotten. Deeds of kindness help to lighten their burden.

HONORING OLD GLORY

LIMA Lodge of Elks observed Flag Day at Fauror park Sunday. This event means something much more than the mere statement of fact, attached to the lodge and the park and the assembly of patriotic citizens. For the flag is the symbol of the great order; its very foundation in fact. Elksdom stands on the broad and secure rock of national patriotism and love of Old Glory. Its sacred folds, born in patriotism and maintained in loyalty, deck the altars of Elks everywhere.

Those who have no love or reverence for the grand old flag have no place in the councils of Elks. These men pay homage to the emblem and pledge their loyalty and fealty to the stately banner that has never been dishonored by being raised in other than a righteous cause; no principle that it ever sponsored was lost; the flag that has stood as the symbol of right and truth and justice and equality.

It was a gracious privilege the Elks of Lima afforded citizens on Sunday—to assist in paying honor to our national emblem. There is a fine sentiment that prompts reverence for Old Glory. A recollection of the achievements, the deeds of valor, the precious blood shed under its inspiration on many fields of battle, prompts in loyal hearts a renewed devotion, a keener appreciation, a more firmly rooted determination that the Stars and Stripes shall continue to stand in the future as they have in the past—for justice and truth and national honor.

MISS LIMA: "Most of the women agree that it is almost warm enough to get out their furs."

AS YOU LIKE IT

MARCEL'S SEANCE
We got the following message thru the ouija board:

"I am informed that the lady who was my wife in the mortal world intends to marry again. Will you kindly get in touch with her future victim and give him this message. She is the meanest, most ill-tempered woman in existence. I ought to know as I was her husband for over fifteen years. She made me live a miserable life. If he marries her he is a senseless, hard-boiled fool."

The name and address of the gentleman was then given us. We will

ABE MARTIN

"It's almost worth while to get married just for the old shoes and rice," said Miss Violetta Moors, 15, today. William J. Bryan has lasted longer than "Way Down East," but Silver Threads Among the Gold is leading him a merry chase.

not publish it; but hope that he will read this and be warned.

MARCEL STEINBRUGGE.

HINTS TO DRIVERS

In order that the automobilists of our city may understand the system of traffic signals now in use we have decided to publish them.

Signals given by traffic officers:
When signaling "Come on," wiggle the ears vigorously and kick three times with the left hand leg.

When signaling "Stand still," scratch the left ear and reach around to the hip pocket for a chew of tobacco.

When signaling "Back to the right," wiggle the right elbow slightly and place left thumb in watch pocket.

When signaling "Turn to the left," tap pavement gently with left foot and wiggle the upper lip.

When signaling "Back up," wiggle little finger on right hand and rub left foot against right shin.

Any automobilist who can remember these signals will get into no trouble.

CH. VOLSTAD, WHERE IS THY STING?

Sign on scenic railway at Coney Island: "Intoxicated Persons Not Allowed on Board."

When we consider present prices, this may not be exactly the land of the free, but certainly it is the home of the brave.

No contributions appertaining to hot weather will be published in this column until next January.

They have John Barleycorn whipped. At least they have him on the hip.

THE PLAIN TRUTH

The aviator is a guy
With shoulders broad and handsome;
He shakes a wicked tooth and eye.
His hips are narrow—and some!

His nifty uniform displays
A contour most alluring.
The papers shower him with praise
For feats of brave enduring.

While in his plane he swiftly flies,
The whim of fortune chancing.
The sights he sees up in the skies
Are said to be entrancing.

Whenever on the street you see
Him stroll with graceful bearing,
The cynosure of eyes is he—
This hero bold and daring.

And yet, despite his golden curls,
Despite the medals he won,
Despite he carried off the girls—
I'd rather SEE than BE one!

—Alexander Blume.

Having taken everything else, we are in favor of having the profiteers take a walk.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is an especially lucky day.
The stars promise material benefits for those who strive for ambition's sake.

It is a fortunate time under which to seek financial aid and those who desire social honors at the hands of others will likewise meet with success.

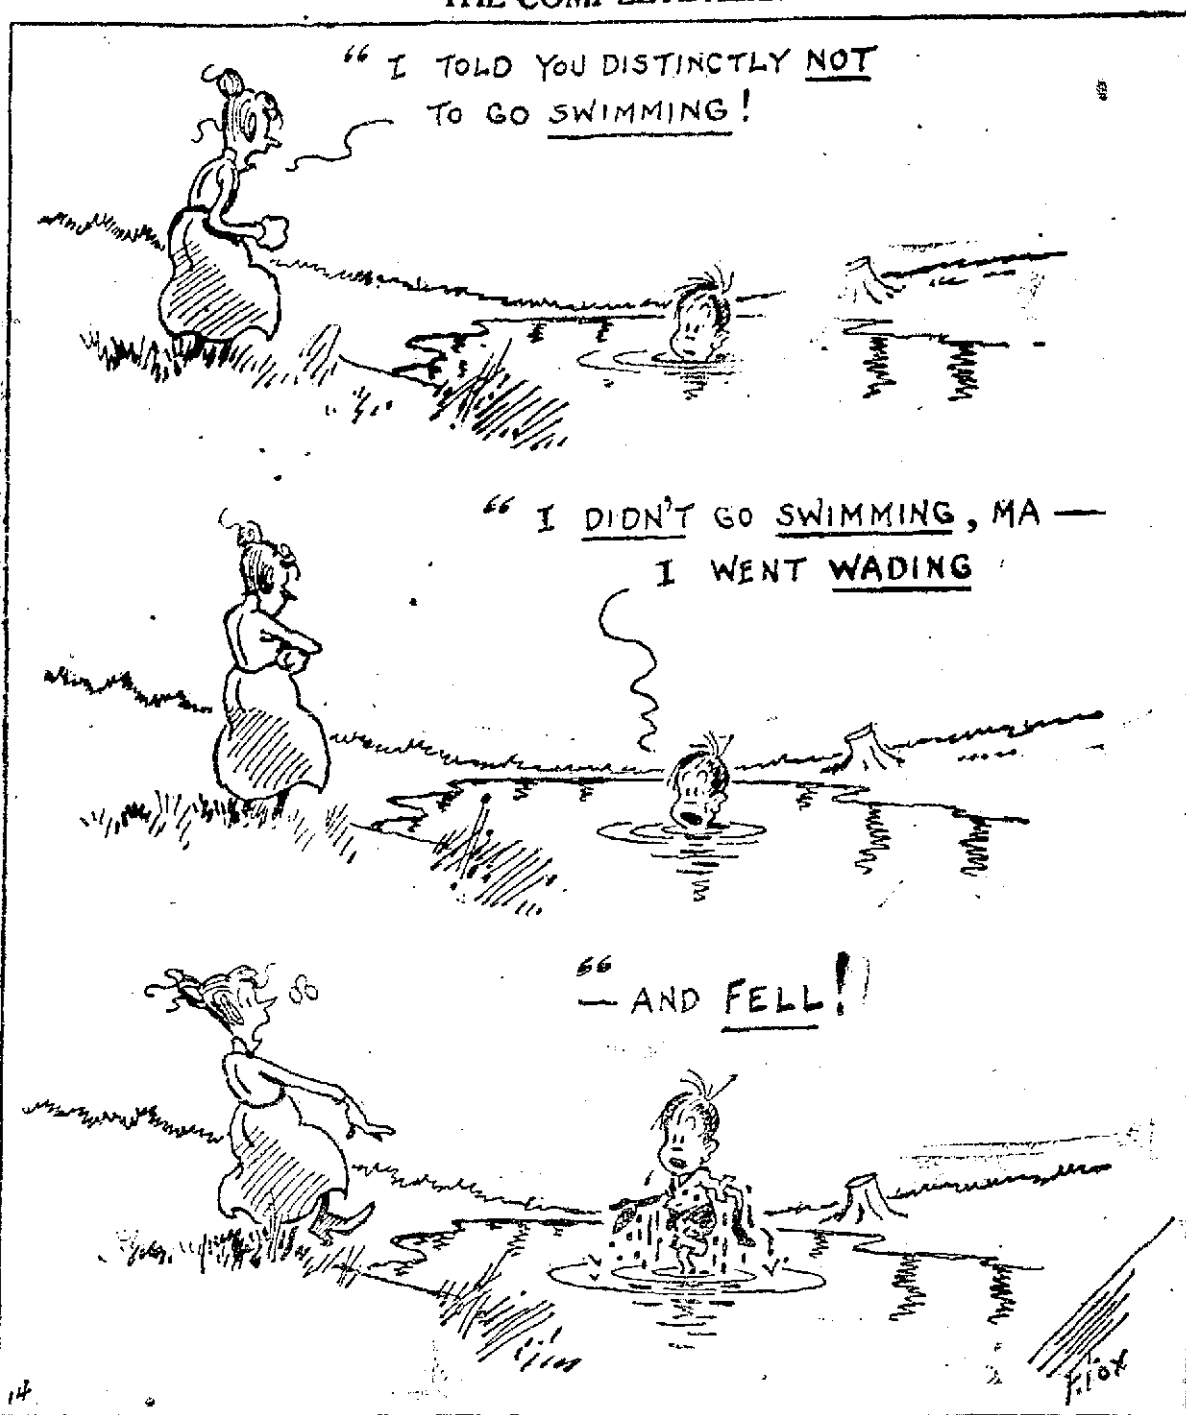

The betterment of sanitary conditions in large cities is urged since the stars warn of a summer of extreme heat and the prevalence of disease.

Persons whose birthday this month will have a trying year but a financially successful one.

Children born today will be intellectual and are likely to possess great beauty.

(Copyright, 1920)

THE COMPLETE ALIBI

JUDITH of BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

"I'll stick a week, giving you the chance to get a man in my place. That's all."

"What's the matter with you?" she cried hotly. "Why would you stay with your job? It is because you don't want to take orders from me?"

Then Lee lifted his grave eyes to hers and answered simply: "That's it. I'm not saying you're not all right. But I got it all figured out, there's just two kinds of ladies. If you want to know, I don't see that you've got any call to tie into a man's job."

"Oh, seat!" cried the girl angrily. "You men make me tired. Two kinds of ladies! And ten thousand kinds of men! You want me to dress like a doll, I suppose, and keep my hands soft and white and go around like a brainless simpering fool. There are two kinds of ladies, my fine friend: the kind that can do the kind that can't! Thank God I'm none of your precious, sighing, hot-house little fools!"

Gulping down a last mouthful of coffee, she was on her feet and passed swiftly out among the men.

"You mean," she cried, and they turned sober eyes upon her, "listen to me! You've heard that big son-of-a-bitch now how he made me! I was forced here. It's two-thirds mine right now. Trevers there is a crook and I told him so. He's been trying to sell me out, to make such a failure of the outfit that I'd have to let it go for a comic song. He got gay and I fired him. He tried to manhandle me and I plucked him."

And now I am going to run my own outfit! What have you got to say about it, you grumbling old grouch with the crooked face! Put up or shut up! I'm calling you!"

The men turned from her to Ward Hannon, the field foreman, who had been Trevers's right-hand man and who now was sneering openly.

"I'm saying it's no work for a kid of a girl," grumbled Hannon. "You run, outfit like this!" he laughed derisively. "It can't be did."

"It can't, can't it?" cried Judith. "Tell me why, old smarty. Spit it out lively!"

Jake Carson's shrill cackle cut thru a low rumble of laughter. "That's passing it to him straight," said the old cattleman. "What's the word, Ward?"

Hannon shrugged his shoulders and spat impudently. "I ain't saying nothing," he growled. "Only this: I got a right to quit, ain't I? Well, I'm quitting. Any time you ketch me working for a female girl that can't ride a horse 'bout falling off, that can't see a pig stuck 'bout fainting, that can't walk a mile 'bout getting laid up, that can't—"

"Didn't I stick a pig already this morning, and have I keeled over yet? Didn't I ride the forty miles from Rocky Bend last night and get here before sunup? Listen to me, chief kicker: If you've got a horse on the ranch I can't ride I'll quit right now and give you my job! Now's that strike you? I tell you the word on this ranch is going to be: 'Put up or shut up!' which is it, Growly?"

Again the men laughed and Hannon's face showed his anger.

"Mean that, lady?" he demanded briefly.

"You can just bet your eyes I mean it!"

Hannon turned toward the stable. "All right, we'll see who's going to put or shut up," he jeered over his shoulder. "You ride the Prince just two little minutes and I'll stay and work for you!"

Bud Lee from the doorway interfered. He was a man who loved fair play and he knew the Prince. "None of that, Ward," he called sternly. "Not the Prince!"

But Judith, her eyes aflame, whirled upon Lee, her voice like a whip as she said: "Lee, you keep out of this. The sooner you learn who's running things here the better for you."

"Maybe so," said Lee quietly. "But don't you fool yourself you can ride Prince. There's not a man on the job except me that can ride him." It was not boastfully said, but with calm assurance. "He's an outlaw, Miss Judith. He's the horse that killed Jimmy Carpenter last spring, and Jimmy—"

"Go ahead, Ward," ordered Judith. "You don't have to stop every time the wind blows, do you?"

Even Bud Lee smiled. But old Carson spoke up, saying: "Bud's right, miss. And if Ward wants to know, he's a low-down dawg to try to turn a trick like this—"

"Go ahead, Ward," Judith repeated. "I've got something to do today besides play pussy-wants-a-cornet with you boys."

Ward went, his eyes filled with malice. Two or three of the older men joined their voices to Bud's and Carson's, expostulating, telling of that fearful thing, an outlaw horse, which maintained a scornful silence.

In due time Ward came back. He was leading a saddled horse, a gray, wildered roan that snarped viciously as he came on, walking with the wide, sweeping stride of a horse little used to the saddle. Judith measured him with her eyes as she had measured the men in the bunk-house.

"He's an ugly devil," she said, and Lee, at her side, smiled again. But the girl had not altered his intention. She stepped closer, looking to pinch, bit, and reins. She commanded Ward to draw the latigo tighter, and Ward did so, dodging back as the big brute snapped at him.

Judith laughed. "Look out, Ward," she taunted him. "He's after your hair!"

Two men held the Prince. At Judith's command they shortened the stirrups and then blinded him with a handanna handkerchief. Then, moving with almost incredible swiftness, she was in the saddle, the reins firmly gripped. The Prince, a sudden trembling thrill thru him stood with his four feet planted. The girl leaned forward and whipped the blind from his red-rimmed eyes.

"There's a good boy!" said Judith coolly. "Buck a little for the lady, Prince!"

Slowly the great muscles of Prince's leg and shoulder and flank corded. The trembling passed; he was like a horse carved in bluish granite. He shook his head a little, Judith, her hand tightening upon the reins, held his head well up, the severe bit thwarting the attempt to get his nose down between his forelegs.

Then suddenly, without sign of warning, the horse whirled, leaping far out to the left, striking hard hoofs bunched, gathering himself as he landed, swerving with the quickness of light, plunging again to the right. And again he stood still.

Judith, sitting securely on his rebellious back, laughed. Her laughter, cool and untried, sent a strange little thrill thru Bud Lee—who, with fear in his heart, was watching her.

"Look out for him now!" he called warningly.

In truth the Prince had not yet begun. He had tried a trick which would have unsettled any but one who rode well. He knew that he had to do with something more than a rank amateur.

buck!" laughed old Carson hysterically. "Mama! Ain't she sure enough—God! She's goin' to get a fall."

For horse and rider had come to the wide irrigating ditch which, since Judith Sanford had lived here, had been constructed to carry the water of Blue Lake River down to the alfalfa-fields. She saw it when she was too close to swerve.

The men watching saw her lean forward in the saddle, gather her reins, lift her whip. Then the lifted whip came down, the spurs touched the Prince's sweating sides, the old horse leaped far and clear, the ditch and there floated back Judith's laughter.

Three minutes later she rode back to the bunk-house and slipped from the saddle. Bud Lee, going to her, had his hat in his hand.

"Now, Ward," she said quickly, her breathing hurried, her cheeks red, "what do you say?"

"I said I'd stick if you rode him," muttered Ward. "And—"

"And," cried the girl with quick passion, "I'll tell you something. You're a great big lumbering coward! Stick to me?" She laughed again, a new laugh, ringing with her scorn. "Here's your outlaw; I've gentled him a bit. You ride him!"

His fellow laughed at Ward; for the field foreman was no horseman and the timorous way in which he had brought out this shapely, vicious animal had testified to the fact. He drew back now, muttering, "Ride him!" cried Judith, her voice stinging him. "Ride him or get off the ranch. Which is it?"

Ward Hannon, glad of the opening answered surlily: "Ain't I thick I want to take orders off'n a woman? You're right, I'll get off'n the ranch!"

"That's two down," said Judith. "Now, take this horse back to the stable; I'm going up to the office. You men come there in five minutes. If you want to stay, and are worth your salt, you can. Or I'll give you your time. It's up to you. It's a free country. But—" and she said it slowly, confronting them—"if you all throw me down and leave me short-handed without giving me time to take on another set of men, you are a pretty low-lived bunch!"

Then, without turning, she went swiftly to the ranch-house. Old man Carson wiped the sweat from his forehead.

"I remember hearing about Luke Sanford's girl," he said simply. "This is her, all right."

(To Be Continued.)

YOUR NAME

SEYMOUR

VARIATIONS—Seymour.

also Middle English.

RACIAL ORIGIN—Norman-French.

SOURCE—Descriptive of locality.

also of occupation.

IT is surprising how many family names which have come to us from England have developed from two or more independent sources. The surname of Seymour is one of these.

Regarding it in the light of one of these sources, it belongs to that very large classification of family names, descriptive of localities in various parts of northern Europe, which developed in England following the invasion of William the Conqueror.

As William had gathered his forces from many sections of Normandy, making it a rather cosmopolitan host, and as this took place at a time when there were still for some system of names which would distinguish one John from another and one Hubert from another, it became quite common, when the Normans got to England, to add to a man's given name some mention of the locality in Normandy from which he had come. One of the places from which many of the invaders were enrolled was St. Maur. The records show first mention of this surname in the form of "de St. Maur" ("of St. Maur"). Following this the English language went thru the throes of radical change in a short period from which the name emerged as Seymour and Seymour.

The more humble explanation of the name's origin is that it developed from the trade of some of the early bearers. The word for tailor in those days was sometimes "seamer," and it is more than likely that, in some instances at least, the surnames Seymour may be so explained, being influenced in its spelling by the prior existence of the changed form of St. Maur.

Tomorrow—MacWilliams.

You know
PARIS
GARTERS
No metal can touch you give satisfaction

Buy
As Good in Summer as in Winter
Kingnut
Margarin
At Your Grocer's
Sold on a Money Back Guarantee

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED AND EARNED

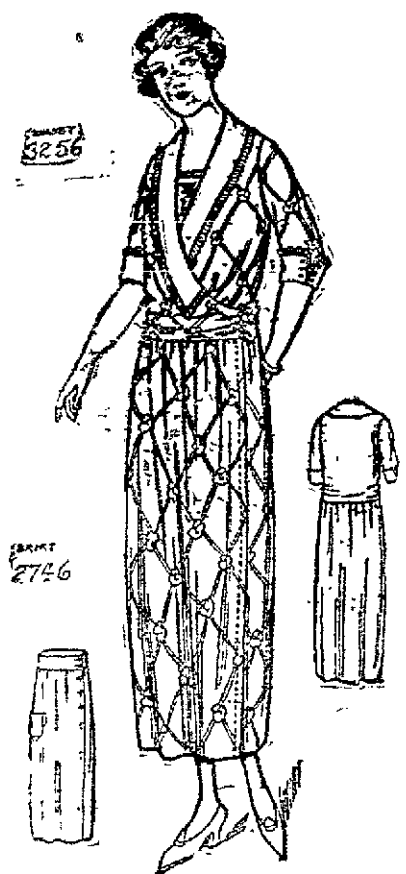

JANE PHELPS

GERRY RENEWS HER DETERMINATION

I said nothing to Robert about my meeting Marion. He would be sure to ask questions, and I had no wish to repeat any part of her conversation, altho I had not forgotten a single word.

She had said he couldn't come back in a month or a year to where he was when I married him—that he was no longer the gay, ambitious Robert they all knew. I would not believe her. I had awakened his ambition—of that I was sure. He had become serious, too serious for one who was as fun-loving as he used to be. I would attempt to help him come back to himself in this too—thank Marion for the hint, I said to myself as I watched him.

PATTERN FOR TODAY

A DRESSY FROCK
Here is a charming combination of 12 pieces. Waist Pattern 3256, cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure, and Ladies Skirt Pattern 2746, cut in 7 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure. The width of the skirt at its lower edge is 1 3/4 yards.

As here portrayed, blue and tan figured foulard was used, with facings of plain foulard in a matched shade of tan, and platings of blue. Black taffeta and white organdie could be here combined. The style is good also for pongee, linen and other wash fabrics. To make this style for a medium size will require 7 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in advance for stamps.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Has the same Texture and Melting Point as butter and the Real Butter Flavor

H. L. Gayer Co., Distributors

ASK YOUR DEALER

Made of the delicious juice of cocoa-nut meat, churned in pure pasteurized milk. High in food value.

In A Nutshell-It's Good

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

By IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON

DRESSING MY BABY

"You may sit up today for as long as you wish," said the nurse to me in the morning when I awakened.

"I am quite sure that will be all day, nurse," I answered, "for I am feeling fine."

I was bathed and dressed quickly and then I begged the nurse to let me help with the baby's toilet. "I want to bathe her," I said.

"Do you think you are perfectly able?" she asked.

"Why of course I am. She is four weeks old, is she not? Many, many women who are not able to afford some one to do it for them must take care of their babies within ten days or two weeks."

"But you must remember, Mrs. Gordon, that you have been very ill. Your case has been somewhat complicated."

"I do not believe in remembering unpleasant things," I answered lightly, as the nurse spread the oilcloth apron over my lap, covered it with the warm fleecy blanket and laid my baby upon it.

Beauty Thrills Her

It was the first time that I had seen her nude, and the beauty of her flesh and the delicacy and softness of her skin when I touched it, sent a thrill through me, and yet I was afraid of her. I was afraid of breaking her, she seemed so fragile, so helpless, and I had a most horrible feeling that I was going to let her slip through my hands.

an investment that would surely be of the safest and best and that when she was old enough to need it she would be quite a rich little girl. "Goodwin," said John, is much more of a business man than I expected."

I smiled to myself, as I realized that it was not until I told John that Charles was a good business man that he had dreamed of such a thing. That not in all the while he was with him in Texas did he find this out himself, and I knew that it was because he was too much engrossed in his own affairs, too much engrossed in the manipulation of his own business. I am afraid that is where John loses out so many times. He does not take the other party into consideration.

Nothing left for me to do but sit and stare at him.

I am a good kind at staring and I immediately became somewhat mistress of myself, and offered him a third cup of tea. Prince Charm-luz was most enthusiastic about my studio, and appreciative of my work.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

By PHYLIS PHILIPS

ENGAGED TO ONE MAN; IN LOVE WITH ANOTHER

He came, he saw and he was conquered. And, oh, what it means to me only the stars and the deep spaces could ever understand.

Prince Charm-luz simply stood before the portrait of myself and said nothing. He seemed to be seeing visions and only at the end of an eternity did he say, "How strange that you should realize yourself."

Then we sat down and talked of every-day things, and smoked, and sometimes were silent. We do not need to communicate, Prince Charm-luz and I, words are so useless in the face of tremendous soul upheavals—a—so banal.

Once he asked me to let him see my hand, and when he took it in his it trembled, noticeable. But he has the tender insight of Sir Galahad of old, mixed up with the personality of Richard Coeur de Lion—it's a fatal combination mes amis! And not by the bat of an eyelash did he let me know that he felt my trembling. Then I laughed and the laugh was high pitched, so I decided to whistle, as a last defense, and the notes broke, and there was up a bit, and smile as an engaged girl should, don't you know. For in an hour I would be with the man of my choice. Such men have a decided objection to red eyes in the heads of those they love and possess, hence the quick transformation.

I was to meet Jack at the Cosmos grill room, and arrived there promptly, surprisingly so for me. He had not arrived, so I sat me down at a table and told the waiter that I was waiting for someone. Ten minutes passed, fifteen, and still no fiancé. I decided to order something to eat, as I was starving. And just as it was being served to me I remembered to my horror that I had only a quarter with me—and Jack was still among the missing.

A red spot appeared on both cheeks, as I ate in a miserable solitude. How could Jack possibly treat me so? How dare he invite me to dinner and then fail to put in an appearance? Never would I speak to him again. I was once more a free lance, as far as he was concerned. Star engaged to a man who was rude? Not I. No, indeed. And I raged and fumed inwardly, until my quiver self told me to call up the house and tell daddy that I was held in pawn for my dinner. No sooner said than done. Imagine my surprise when on calling up I heard Jack's deep voice booming back at me from the great beyond. (To be continued.)

ASK FOR and GET Horlick's
The Original
Malted Milk
for Infants and Invalids
Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

No machine can do what this new receipt-printing cash register does

- ① It prints the merchant's name. —————→ J. SMITH COMPANY 10 MAIN ST.
- ② It prints the price of each article. —————→ 0.17
0.32
0.48
0.09
- ③ It adds the items. —————→ TOTAL
- ④ It prints the total of all items. —————→ $01.06
- ⑤ It retains an added and printed record.

Copy of receipt printed for each customer.

It also does other important things for merchants, clerks, and customers.

Old registers bought, sold, repaired, and exchanged. Easy payments. Liberal allowance for old registers.

Write or telephone to our office.

C. H. Bell, Branch Manager, 110 East Spring Street, Lima

We make cash registers for every line of business

NATIONAL

CASH REGISTER CO.

SOCIETY CLUBS HOME

By MARGARET SIMPSON

Banns for the approaching marriages of a number of prominent Lima young people were read at the high masses Sunday at the three Catholic churches. At St. Rose church the banns were read for the marriage of Frank J. Callahan and Miss Bertha Falk of St. Johns parish; and for Edwin Finn of St. Rose parish and Miss Kathleen Flavin of St. Gerard's parish.

At St. John's church the banns were read for the wedding of Henry Heckman and Miss Anna Shiner and for Raymond Wootley and Miss Helen Finn of St. Gerard's parish.

At St. Rose church the banns were read for the second time for Edward Schuch and Marie Gigandini and for Anthony Barrore and Miss Margaret Macey.

All of the above banns will be read at the altar of the church at the parish church of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Archer and daughter, Carolyn and Gilbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klined and daughter, Mrs. W. W. Archer, after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Doherty, leave for several days.

Miss Frances Flanagan, N. W. at, spent the week-end at Russell's Point with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Selber, and daughter, Miss Charlotte and Miss Emma, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Scallen will motor to Cincinnati on Tuesday to be the guests of friends for several days.

Mrs. W. S. Galvin, Jamestown, is visiting with her sons, W. J. Galvin, North-st., and L. S. Galvin, W. North-st.

Miss Helen Huston, having over, is home from Ohio Wesleyan University to spend the summer with her parents.

Mrs. John Dolin will be hostess to the members of the Progressive Echo club at her home on Wednesday afternoon.

The members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club will entertain with a dinner at the Elk's Home on Tuesday evening for the pleasure of Miss Nina Ruhlen, June bride-elect, and Mrs. Don Belford, who will leave soon for Seattle, Wash., to make her future home.

Pupils of Mrs. Harry Macdonald, pianist, will be presented in a recital at the Macdonald home, W. Spring-st., on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. About fifty pupils will participate.

Justin Ireton, a student at St. Mary's Institute, Dayton, will arrive home on Wednesday to spend the summer months with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ireton, S. James-son-ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mullen, and little nephew, Donald Friedley and Mrs. Martin Hodge, motored to Leavenworth and Columbus Grove, where they spent the week-end with friends. Mrs. Hodge will remain in Leavenworth for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deisel, Sr., will entertain with a dinner dance at the Shawnee Country club on Monday evening for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weimer. The guests will be seated at one long table arranged artistically with pink roses and green ferns. Pink cathedral candles tied with tulle will form a garland over the table. Following the repast, dancing is to be taken up, with the Harley Holmes orchestra furnishing the music. Guests include 20 intimate friends and relatives of the host and hostess.

Miss Rosemary Thompson, Rona-ay, will leave Tuesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the summer months with relatives.

Mrs. C. D. Gaudin, Mrs. O. Ben Schults and Mrs. M. C. Newton are entertaining the members of the Amiable Bridge club with a luncheon bridge at the Shawnee Country club on Wednesday. Covers will be laid for sixteen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Krohn, who have been the guests of Mrs. Robert Krohn, W. North-st., have gone to Wapakoneta for several days.

The members of the Troop No. 2 of Girl Scouts left on Monday for a camping trip to Scott's Crossing. They are planning to remain in camp for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Negley are chaperoning the troop.

Those enjoying the cruise are Virginia Merker, Charlotte, Rosewood, Martha Garabedian, Helen Hughes, Helen Stoenbach, Helen Eddy, Dorothy Lawson, Esther Wedekind, Betty Brink, Virginia Merker, Mildred Sidner, Barbara Cook, Gerald Hawell, Dorothy Dempster, Winona Rebecca Anderson, Corinne Gray, Linda Bondman, Marian Cameron, Bob Jones and Beatrice Spiller.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Michael and son, Robert and N. L. Michael, W. Market-st., left for a second month's trip thru the east. They will spend the first week-end in Atlantic City and then travel thru the New England states.

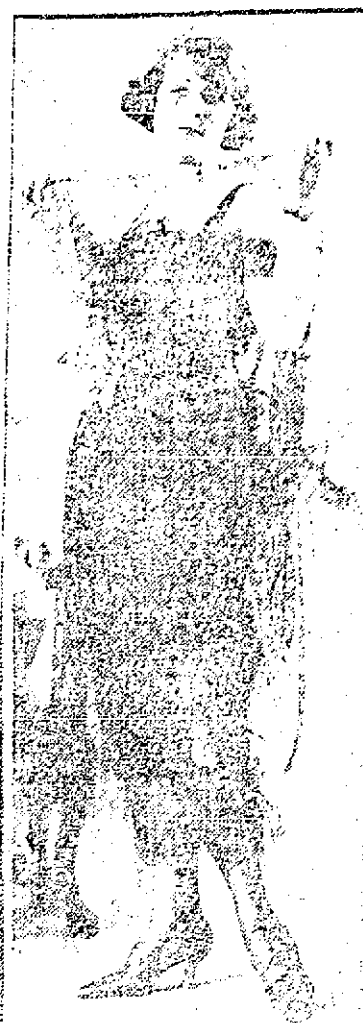

Mrs. J. W. Barent will entertain the members of the Floral Guild with a Bohemian party on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Newman and daughter, Missa Eileen and Margaret, N. Washington, have returned from a delightful motor trip to Cincinnati.

Mrs. M. Long, Hazel-ave, has returned from Muncie, Ind., where she visited with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Connelly.

Miss Anna Graham returned to her home in Chicago Monday after a delightful visit here with her brother, H. A. Graham and family, N. Charles-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Durbin, S. Jameson-ave will leave the latter part of the week for San Francisco, Cal., where Mr. Durbin will attend the Democratic convention.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Monday Evening
Cotta, Clara of the St. Paul Lutheran church, Mrs. C. F. Hupp.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deisel to entertain with dinner dance. Shawnee Country club. Diana Ogilvie, Mrs. Isabelle Wilson to appear on recital First Christian church, evening.

Tuesday
Mrs. Harry Macdonald to present Wilson to appear in recital evening.
Tuesday Bridge club, Mrs. S. S. Lawson, afternoon.
Schenk-O'Neill, marriage, St. Rose church.

Mrs. F. R. Patterson and daughter, Carolyn, and Mrs. Jane Lowthman, and daughter, Mrs. W. C. Wilson and Miss Mary Wilson, 223 W. High-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Broderick and daughter, Mary, Muncie, Ind., motored to Lima and spent the week-end with Mrs. J. J. Collison. Mrs. Broderick's sister and Mrs. Mary Brown, of W. McKibben-st.

Miss Mineva Goodman, of W. High-st., has returned from a ten days vacation spent at her sister's home in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. C. F. Hunter, Wapakoneta, was a guest for several days of her son, C. M. Hunter and family, W. North-st.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Moore and daughter, Miss Helen, & Cole spent the week-end at Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Levy, Philadelphia, are visiting with Mrs. Levy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bernstein, W. Market-st.

Miss Anna Brown, Cleveland, will return to her home on Tuesday after a pleasant visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Zimmerman, 21 Richlie-ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Owen, N. College-st., are entertaining Miss Edith Brown, Cleveland.

Miss Sorelda Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wood, N. Jameson-ave, is home from Mount University, Oxford, for the summer months.

Mrs. L. C. Binkley, daughter, Miss Christine and son Robert, W. Market-st. left Monday for Toledo, where they will attend the graduation exercises at the Ursuline Academy. Miss Roma Binkley is a member of the graduating class.

THE WITCHERY OF SPRING
Symbolized in lace, one would almost think the lace of the skirt also made the mantle, so exquisite is the blending of the drapery. But it is a separate thing entirely, and the mantle is as graceful as the scarf and smiling bonnets ever were. The necking has an indescribable artistic design, being neither round nor square. The skirt, too, has an individuality and is wide and clinging and caught with a flame-colored blossom.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Klingner, Columbus, will be the guests of their parents.

Mrs. Margaret Schellenberg has returned to Lima after spending several days with friends in St. Marys.

Miss Florence Price, McBeth-apt, W. North-st., is spending several days in Delaware attending the commencement exercises at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Mrs. Ray Hutchins and grand daughter, Misses Marjorie and Ruth, Hughes-ave, are the guests of Mrs. Hutchins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tester, Wapakoneta.

SUMMER SALADS

Beet Salad—Chop one pint of canned beets, fold pieces, canned, into cold water, two hard-boiled eggs, mix with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaf.

Spinach Salad—Wash a pound of spinach, put in the pan without adding water, as there is enough on leaves, stir until wilted. When tender, cool, mix with French dressing (oil, vinegar, salt), garnish with hard-boiled eggs.

Russian Salad—Cover one-quarter box of gelatine with one-quarter pint cold water. Soak for one-half hour. Add one-half pint of boiling water, juice of one-half lemon, salt. While this cools, place in small bowl, a layer of lettuce, peas, cold potatoes (diced), and diced cold meat (or chopped liver, season). Another layer of peas. Pour cold jelly over this and let stand until congealed. Serve with mayonnaise.

Vegetable Salad—For this salad use one can of strained beans, one-half stalk celery, one-half cup of diced carrots, one-half onion and one potato or one fresh pepper cut in strips. Add sufficient mayonnaise to combine well and serve cold on the lettuce leaf.

Make this salad as a left-over dish so that it is quite economical in spite of so many ingredients. It is to be used in the way of cold vegetables.

CRUSADE ORDERED ON SPEEDERS

Citizens Asked to Aid in Curbing Motorcyclists

Speeding automobiles or motorcycles in Lima must cease. The mayor and the chief of police have so decreed, and in order that the intent of the ordinance against speeding may be carried out to the letter every citizen is authorized to make arrests.

Numerous reports have reached police headquarters, Chief Roush said, where speeders have not been apprehended by the police. It being impossible for members of the force to see all violators he has announced the cooperation of every citizen is desired. The only thing necessary is to have the number of the car, name of driver and proof that he was speeding more than 20 miles per hour. Roush said and an affidavit will be prepared, on presentation at police headquarters.

Another nuisance which is to be handled more rigidly in the future is that of driving with open mufflers. Motorcyclists are the chief offenders in this respect according to police.

EMMA F. SELLERS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Emma F. Sellers, 65, died at her home, 419 S. McKeon-st., Sunday. She was the wife of J. W. Sellers. She had been ill 18 months. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mrs. Sellers was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shappell and was born in Pickaway-co., Ohio, June 10, 1852. Besides the husband, she leaves a son, Orlando, residing at the parental home.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the First Christian church. Rev. E. A. Verbins will officiate and interment will be in Shawnee cemetery.

Persons wishing to view the body are asked to call at the home before the cortege leaves for the church, as the casket will not be opened at the funeral.

EMBARGO PUT ON FREIGHT THREE DAYS BY L. E. & W.

The L. E. & W. Railroad has put on a freight embargo and will receive no freight here for three days. The purpose of the embargo is to procure empty freight cars as it is impossible to get them at present. The message was received early Monday and goes into effect at once. The freight agent did not know whether the embargo affected the whole system or if it was entirely local.

THE TAPPEN AUTO. ELECTRIC CO. IS NOW LOCATED AT 110 WATER-ST. UNTIL THEIR NEW BUILDING IS COMPLETED.

METCALF-ST VIADUCT TO BE BOOSTED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A river improvement committee and a Metcalf-st viaduct committee will be appointed by the Lima chamber of commerce. A meeting of the committee on committees has been called for late Monday afternoon by Chairman Schoover, to make these appointments for the purpose of speeding up work on these projects in accordance with plans of the chamber of commerce.

It is announced a new chairman will be appointed for the Main-st paving committee to replace Jeff Morris. Meetings of the industrial committee and program of work committees have been announced for Tuesday at the chamber of commerce auditorium.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. J. O. Moore, Beaverdam, who for the past 10 days had been visiting at the home of O. E. Wender, 5 miles east of West Cairo, became very ill while on her visit. She was removed Sunday night to St. Rita's hospital by the Williams and Davis company.

REV. STILES TO SPEAK
"America Looking Towards Tomorrow" will be the subject of the address to be delivered by the Rev. Franklin Stiles at the regular noon-day Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday at the usual hour, 12 o'clock. The entertainment committee for this week includes: Seward Folsom, Howard Fletcher and Harry Goldsberry.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.
Alva Devore, 19, Route No. 1, Elida, was fined $10 in criminal court Monday morning after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding on a motorcycle within the city limits.

YOU'LL ALWAYS DO BETTER AT

116 West Market Street

Fields
Quality Shop

116 West Market Street

Orpheum Theatre Building

THESE (7) WONDERFUL BARGAINS ON SALE

Tomorrow Tuesday Only

COME EARLY FOR BEST SELECTION

White Wash Skirts 3 new models, all sizes to 30 waist—$2.50 and $3.00 value $1.95

Georgette Crepe Blouses All colors and sizes, values from $16.50 to $22.50 $9.99

SPRING SUITS $22.50 to $75.00—Entire stock—your choice all day Tuesday } HALF PRICE

FUR SCARFS and Chokers 6 to select from—your choice— } HALF PRICE

SPRING COATS Long or short length—up to $27.50—Tuesday... $13.75

MERCERIZED BLOOMERS Flesh or White—up to $1.50 values 79c

DRESS SKIRTS Lot of 26—Silk and Wool—up to $10.00 values—special $4.69

THE BUSIEST "LITTLE STORE" IN LIMA

BATTLESHIP Coffee

"A CUP OF COPPER" may mean anything. But there's only one meaning to a cup of Battleship Coffee—all satisfying—all-the-way-down! It never changes, for the wax-wrapped package preserves all the fresh goodness and delicious flavor and fragrance for you. Ask your grocer for Battleship Coffee.

Coffee—The Perfect Drink

The Canby, Ach & Canby Co. Dayton, Ohio

There Is No Let Up

IN CRUSHING THE

HIGH COST OF SHOES

—AT—

Weil's Great Reduction Shoe Sale Every Day Is Bargain Day

WEIL'S SAMPLE SHOE STORE

METROPOLITAN BLOCK

OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE

Take Elevator

3rd Floor

THE SHOE SALE EVERYBODY IS TALKING ABOUT

Sale Starts Tuesday Morning

OPEN EVENINGS DURING SALE

Geraniums, stock formerly selling for 50c, now 30c
Geraniums, stock formerly selling for 35c, now 20c
Geraniums, stock formerly selling for 25c, now 15c
Petunias, stock formerly selling for 20c, now 10c
Fuchsias, stock formerly selling for 35c, now 15c
Walnut Geraniums, stock formerly selling for 25c, now 15c
Vine Vines, stock formerly selling for 35c, now 20c
Pansies (at Woodlawn house only) dozen 50c

Rose Plants or Bushes, 3-year-old plants, extra special value, good assortment, only $5.00 per dozen. Also other small lots not mentioned above.

Vegetable Plants

Tomatoes, Mangoes, Cauliflower, Cabbage
All at Special Prices

(Vegetable plants at Bellefontaine house only)

ROLF ZETLITZ CO.

WOODLAWN AVE., OPPOSITE CEMETERY
BELLEFONTAINE AVE., OPPOSITE DRIVING PARK

REDS HOP INTO FIRST MAKING BOTH OHIO TEAMS LEAD LEAGUES

JIMMY RING LIFTS CINCINNATI INTO FIRST PLACE, HOLDING BROOKLYN SCORELESS—CLEVELAND REMAINS ON TOP

By JOE BERNSTEIN.

THE FIRST OF the week has witnessed the most favorable change in big league baseball that any fan in this part of the country could desire.

The two Ohio teams, the Cincinnati Reds and the Cleveland Indians are both occupiers of the first position in their respective leagues, and they expect to stay there.

The Reds went into the coveted honors Sunday when they nosed Brooklyn out of the game by just one run. The lone tally came in the sixth inning and Daubert was the lucky chap who scored.

Jimmy Ring, erstwhile hard luck pitcher was the winning hurler, and it did the boys good to see Ring get his just dues. He held the Dodgers to six hits and kept them well enough scattered to make them count for naught.

The Indians, altho they held on to their initial position, met with defeat at the hands of the Yanks. It was an overwhelming defeat at that—with the score 14 to 0. The Indians apparently laid down on the job and felt that they could afford to let the battle slip by.

Cleveland holds the top of the American league with a percentage of .660 or just about one game in the lead of the Yanks. The Reds too, haven't any too strong a hold on initial honors for their count is only .583 compared to Brooklyn's .540.

Nevertheless, both teams are leading their respective leagues in hitting. The Cleveland average is placed above .300 by the official figures. Cincinnati is credited with a percentage of .289.

With batting records such as these, and with the proper kind of spirit, the two Ohio teams should stick right on top.

INDEPENDENTS-TRIANGLES STAGE MUD FIGHT

A pretty exhibition of good baseball was witnessed on the Murphy st. diamond by local fans yesterday in the first game of the double-header with the Triangles yesterday.

Comparatively slow action was the rule, but consistent and almost errorless playing made up for the action. The rain that made a sea of the field, failed to interfere with the class of play.

The Triangles gathered their two runs during the second inning when two timely hits were gleamed from McCharley's deliveries. However, the Lima pitcher tightened after

JUST GOT IT

CINCINNATI	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Bath, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Daubert, 1b	4	1	1	10	0	0
Groh, 3b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Roush, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Duncan, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Kopf, 3b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Smith, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Bardner, c	4	0	1	10	0	0
Rims, p	4	0	1	10	0	0
Totals	32	1	6	27	0	0

BROOKLYN	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Olson, ss	4	0	1	10	0	0
Johnson, 3b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Wheat, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Myers, c	4	0	1	10	0	0
Konert, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Griffith, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Kellogg, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Fuller, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Marquard, p	4	0	1	10	0	0
Smith, 2b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Mitchell, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Neale, c	4	0	1	10	0	0
McCabe, p	4	0	1	10	0	0
Totals	32	0	6	26	0	0

Batted for Marquard in 3th.
Batted for Mitchell in 5th.
Batted for Konert in 6th.
Rough out, hit by batted ball.
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Cincinnati: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Brooklyn: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Two-base hit: Mitchell. Double play: Kopf, Full and Daubert. Left on bases: Cincinnati 5; Brooklyn 6. Hits: Off Marquard 6 in 2 innings; off Smith, none in 1 inning. Struck out: By Marquard 4; by Ring 3. Wild pitch: Marquard. Winning pitcher: Ring. Losing pitcher: Marquard. Umpires: Klein and Emalle. Time: 1:37.

OVERWHELMING

NEW YORK	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Packard, ss	4	0	1	10	0	0
Meusel, 3b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Pipe, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Ruth, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Fratt, c	4	0	1	10	0	0
Lewis, 1b	4	0	1	10	0	0
Ward, 3b	4	0	1	10	0	0
French, c	4	0	1	10	0	0
Shawkey, p	4	0	1	10	0	0
Totals	32	0	6	26	0	0

Batted for Meusel in 3th.
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
New York: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Cleveland: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Error: Wambegans. Two-base hit: Meusel. P. 3. Bodie. Ruth. Johnson. Myers. Smith. Chapman. Home run: Ruth. Sacrifice hit: Hannah. Left on bases: New York 2; Cleveland 13. Bases on battery: 2; off Uhl: 2. Off Faith: 2. Hits: Off Uhl, 3 in 1 inning; off Faith 2 in 1 inning; off Myers 2 in 2-3 innings. Struck out: By Shawkey 1; by Myers 2. Losing pitcher: Uhl. Time: 2:03. Umpires: Hildebrand and Evans.

Wampus Hums

SUNDAY'S HERO—Jimmy Ring. Fellow town-mates of the Red hurler in Brooklyn, presented him with a diamond fob and then he went and shut out the Dodgers 1 to 0, the Reds going back into first place.

With two triples, Hap Felsch led the White Sox attacks which gave Claude Williams a victory over the Reds 9 to 3.

Babe Ruth's 17th home run was one of 18 hits for 27 bases that the Yanks needed to beat the league leading Indians 14 to 0.

The Athletics returned home to the cellar Sunday when the Tigers beat them 4 to 3 in 10 innings and got out the eighth hole for the first time this season.

The Cards, continuing their dash to the top, beat the Giants 5 to 3, cutting down the lead of the Reds to two games.

The Browns walloped the Red Sox 11 to 5. Sister's homer was the heaviest blow of the Browns' 13 hits.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

DAYTON COPS 2 GAMES

Two games were taken from the Lima Independents by the Dayton Triangles yesterday when the promised double-header was played despite rain and mud and most everything else that would ordinarily stop a ball game.

Bernie Holleran, the manager of the Lima aggregation lived up to his promises. He told the fans last week that he was going to give them a double-header this week, and he did, in the face of rain and mud.

The first game started in fine shape after a little shower, but before many innings had passed the men were forced to seek shelter from the rain. However, despite a sea of mud, the two teams were offered on the field, and the remainder of the game was played in a mud puddle.

The surprising thing about the first game is that despite the extraordinary amount of mud and despite the slippery field and numerous swimming pools between the bases, there were only three errors in the whole game. The score was 2 to 1.

A new lad by the name of McCharley worked on the mound for the locals. He allowed the visitors seven hits and only one earned run. McCharley looks like a pitcher, but the weather was against him yesterday.

The Score
DAYTON..... 2
TRIANGLES..... 1
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Dayton: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Triangles: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Two-base hit: Mitchell. Double play: Kopf, Full and Daubert. Left on bases: Cincinnati 5; Brooklyn 6. Hits: Off Marquard 6 in 2 innings; off Smith, none in 1 inning. Struck out: By Marquard 4; by Ring 3. Wild pitch: Marquard. Winning pitcher: Ring. Losing pitcher: Marquard. Umpires: Klein and Emalle. Time: 1:37.

At the time the second game was held, the men on both teams were drenched and wet to the skin. The second game proved conclusively that not a man in uniform was comfortable for it was just the reverse of the first. It was played loosely and Fournier, the Lima pitcher was way off color. He had been replaced by Westbay, but Westbay too, failed to stop the Triangles.

The game was finally called in the sixth when the rain began again. The game went to the Triangles in that inning by a score of 0 to 0.

The first contest was a marvel, considering all the handicaps under which the players worked, there was little to be asked in that contest.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

GAMES TODAY
National League
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Boston.
American League
Washington at Chicago.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
American Association
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
St. Paul at Columbus.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF BASEBALL STARS, ALL IN ONE PICTURE

Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb
Half a Million Dollars Worth of Ball Players.

By SID MERCER

NEW YORK — Among those present when George Herman Ruth emitted his seventh home run at the Polo Grounds the other day was Michael Angela Donlin, a famous socker of bygone days.

"Turkey Mike's" appearance at ball games are infrequent now. He is a very successful thespian. "I'm just an outsider looking in now," said Donlin, "but I still love a ball game and I came out to see Ruth 'kiss' one. I'll say the Babe is accommodating."

We know of no one better qualified to discuss the art and science of batting more learnedly or interestingly than Mike. He could hit himself.

"I'll tell the world fair that this bird gets more into a punch than anybody I ever saw," declared Donlin after Ruth walked up and hit one into the stands off Dutch Leonard. "And remember that I was around when Lajoie, Delehanty, Wagner and those other smackers were good."

It seemed to me that no more than two second classes between the time that Babe leaned on the ball until it caromed off a seat in the stands. I don't believe I ever saw a batted ball travel more swiftly. I'm ready to believe anything now, even a booking agent.

"I never thought there would be a ball batted into those centerfield bleachers, but I expect to hear of Ruth doing it any day. In fact, he might have cleared any fence in the park with that hit today. Did you notice that it was still rising when it struck?"

"I have good reason for pulling for the Yanks to get somewhere this season. You know I sort of raised Sam Vick and Muddy Ruel for this team when I managed the Memphis club. I still think that Vick is one of the best hitters I ever saw and I understand that he has made a big improvement in his fielding. Ruel is a snappy catcher and hits nicely at a ball. He tells me he is putting on more weight, so I expect to hear good reports on his hitting when he fully matures. I like that kid at third base too."

"The Yankees may not be a wonderful team, but they play interesting ball. Give the mob the old base hit and they'd overlook a lot of shortcomings."

Before the game Donlin mitted Ty Cobb and inquired about the health of Ty's batting average.

"It's very poor," declared Cobb. "I ought to be moving faster than I am. What do you suppose is wrong with me?"

"I'll take a look," said Mike, "and maybe I can tip you off."

THE LIMA STORAGE BATTERY CO.
WILLARD SERVICE STATION
111 W. ELM ST. MAIN 5600

PROFESSIONAL SANCTIONED
AUTO RACES
Auto Pool Aviation
8 Star and champion dirt track drivers in fast racing autos SPEED
ETHEL DARE
Only woman in world changing planes in midair. THRILLS
AUTO POLO—The Dynamite Sport
One Day Only—Next Saturday
JUNE 19th, LIMA, O.
Lima Driving Park Track

VAUDEVILLE FEATURES WEEK IN MAJOR LEAGUES

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK.—(By United Press).—Baseball in the National League, continues like a vaudeville show, with a new banner attraction every week. Last week, Branch Rickey and his caste of Cardinals, put over the star number of the bill in a lively skit, "Pec's Bad Boys, or Five Sticks of Dynamite for New York."

The Cards hopped from fifth to third place by winning five out of six games, three from Brooklyn and two from the Giants and drew up two games from first position.

Monday, the St. Louis troupe is the best-scoring, the hardest-hitting and the fastest club in the league.

Rickey's men made more hits and scored more runs in six games than the Robins and the Giants did in seven. Good pitching and good defensive work, held their opposition to 12 runs, the lowest of the circuit.

The champions Reds went from second to first place at the close of the week, but they can thank the Cards for it. Moran's men dropped four out of six games, being interested in a problem play of "getting the umpire's goat," while St. Louis was greasing the skids under the Robins for them.

During the New York engagement of the Red company, Ed Roush, Grassy Neale and Slim Sallee, were ordered off the stage by the umpire-jug director and their underlings didn't know their lines very well.

On the American League stage, stock bills remain the policy.

Speakers' Indians, after a good run "out in front," are being asked to vacate the boards for the Yankees in "Cosh, What a Rap."

The Yanks won six out of eight games last week and continued their stunt of breaking pitchers' hearts by rapping out 24 hits for 63 runs.

Huggins has uncovered a new star performer in Rip Collins, a Texas pitcher, who promises to take the place of some of the pitchers who are not yet in their stride.

BRING ONLY CHANGE
Just to avoid a week of monotony, the Athletics and the Tigers kicked up a rumpus in the cellar and brought about the only change of the week. Tigers got out of the last hole for the first time this season and the Athletics fell right in.

With the exception of the Cards the western invaders were badly handled in the first invasion of the Redland groundkeeper to the Cincinnati National League. The Reds dropped four out of six, the

RUTH WALLOPS OUT 17th HOMER

Babe Ruth gleamed his 17th homer from the slugfest, engaged in by the Yanks at Cleveland yesterday.

The big circuit smasher found a perfect one in the sixth inning and let loose a wallop that brought him all the way around the diamond to the start again.

The counter, however was only a drop in the bucket in New York's 14 to 0 win.

Cubs drop, ed five out of six and fell from third to fourth place and Pittsburgh dropped two out of five and fell from fourth to fifth place.

The Athletics, who dropped seven out of eight games, marred a perfectly good showing of the eastern American League clubs on their western invasion. The Yankees took six out of eight and the Red Sox and Washington split even with three games each.

Official batting averages give the two Ohio teams the lead in their respective leagues. The Reds have an average of .289 while Cleveland leads the American with the tall figure of .304.

"You tell 'em Ring," said the Redland groundkeeper to the Cincinnati hurler. "I've got the diamond."

STANDINGS

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Cincinnati	23	20	.533
Brooklyn	27	20	.574
St. Louis	25	25	.500
Chicago	25	25	.500
Pittsburgh	21	22	.488
Boston	21	22	.487
New York	21	22	.487
Philadelphia	19	38	.334

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Cleveland	23	17	.574
New York	24	18	.569
Chicago	28	22	.560
Boston	28	22	.560
Washington	24	24	.500
St. Louis	21	27	.437
Pittsburgh	18	28	.391
Philadelphia	18	28	.391

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
St. Paul	29	15	.659
Toledo	28	22	.560
Milwaukee	30	24	.556
Minneapolis	28	22	.560
Columbus	28	22	.560
Louisville	28	22	.560
Indianapolis	17	33	.340
Kansas City	18	38	.316

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Cincinnati	23	20	.533
St. Louis	25	25	.500
New York	21	22	.487
Chicago	25	25	.500
Detroit	24	24	.500
(10 games)

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Columbus	28	22	.560
(First game)
(Second game)
Minneapolis	28	22	.560
Indianapolis	17	33	.340
(Second game)
Toledo	28	22	.560
Kansas City	18	38	.316

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Cincinnati	23	20	.533
St. Louis	25	25	.500
New York	21	22	.487
Chicago	25	25	.500
Detroit	24	24	.500
(10 games)

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Columbus	28	22	.560
(First game)
(Second game)
Minneapolis	28	22	.560
Indianapolis	17	33	.340
(Second game)
Toledo	28	22	.560
Kansas City	18	38	.316

Club

22 AUTOMOBILES & SUPPLIES

NIJ - 100-442861

ARCHIVE®

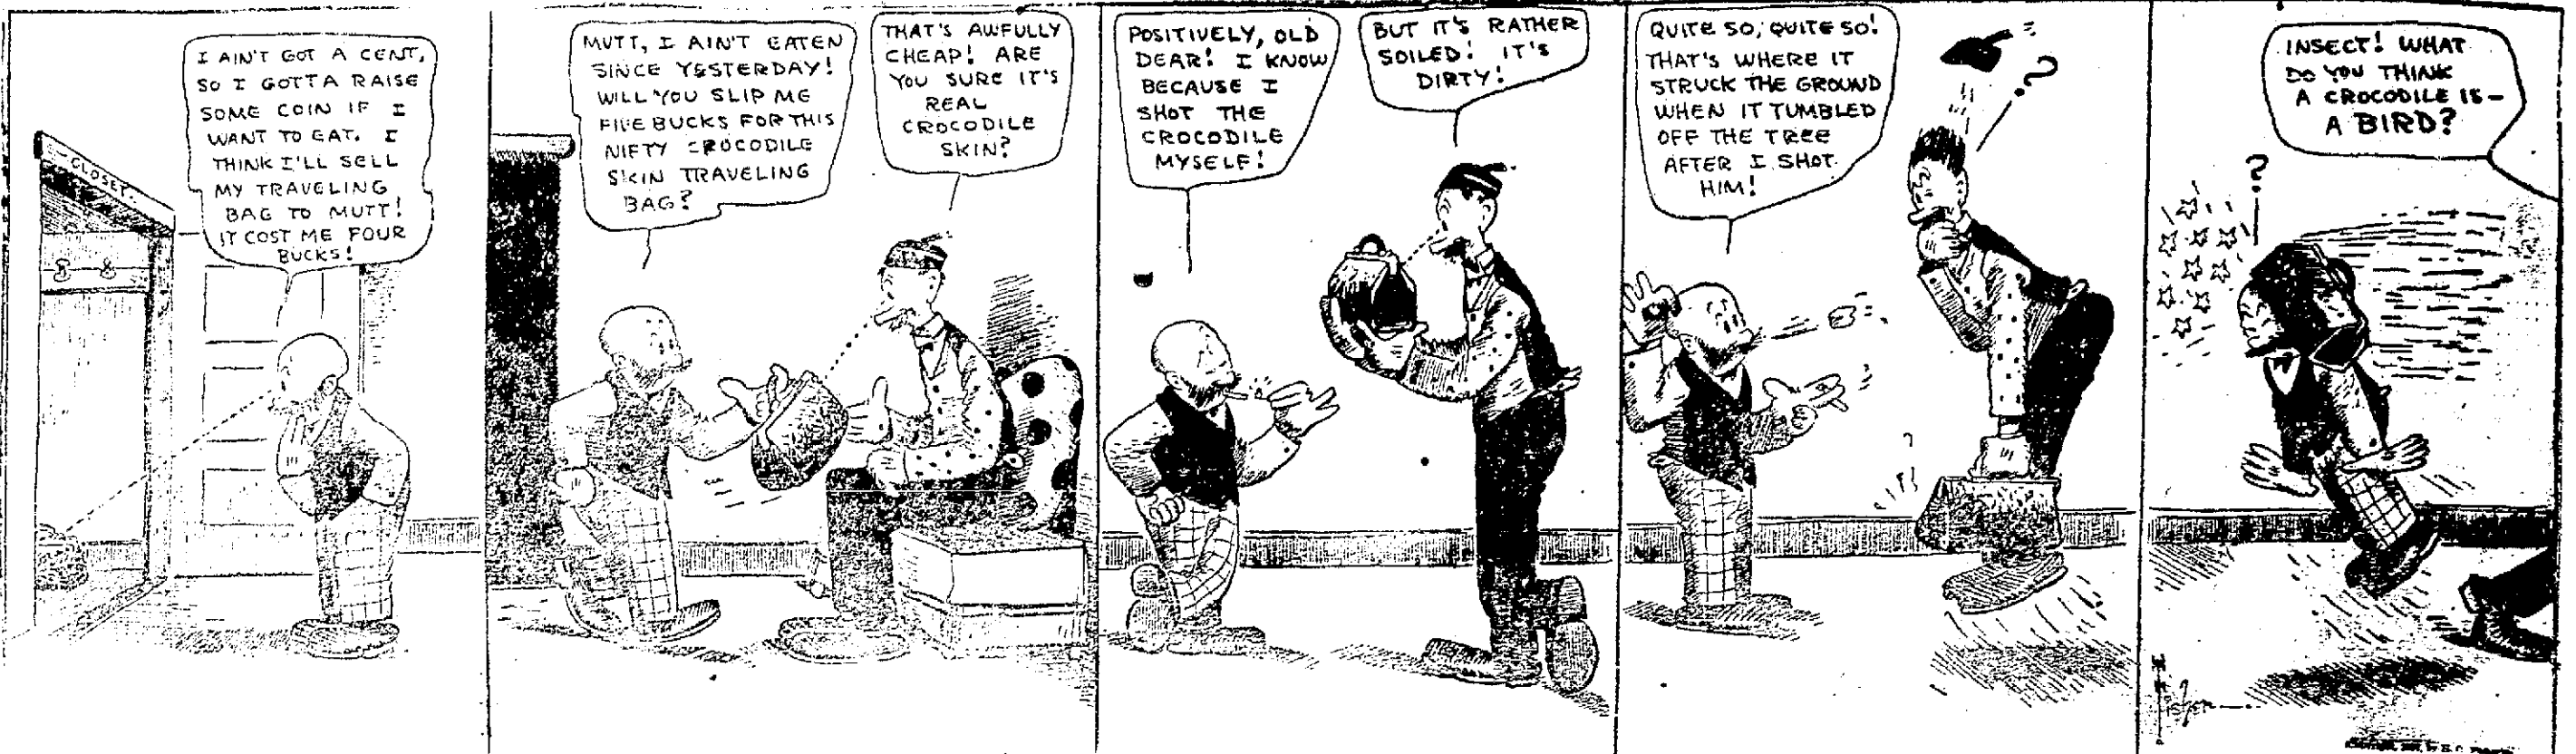

1

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE

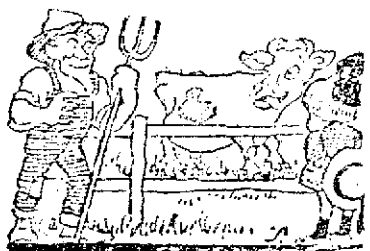

MUTT AND JEFF—EVIDENTLY JEFF HAS NEVER BEEN NEAR A ZOO—

By BUD FISHER

Short Shavings

One time a young girl went out on a farm on a visit. She was looking at the cows one day, and asked the farmer, "What are those things on that cow's head?"

"Horns," said the farmer.

Just then the cow bawled. "Which horn did she blow that time?" asked the girl. "Lone Scout!"

"My dear," he said as they sat at supper, "I heard such a sad story today about a young girl. They thought she was going blind, and so a surgeon operated on her and found—"

"Yes?" said the wife expectantly. "That she had a young man in her eyes," finished the husband with a chuckle.

For a moment there was silence. Then the lady of the house said slowly: "Well, it would all depend upon what sort of a young man it was. Some of them could have seen thru easily enough."

"Did you ever hear such an absurd apology in your life?"

Stop That Ache!

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many Lima people have used them and know how effective they are. Here's a Lima case.

Mrs. H. E. Simpson, 625 E. Kirby St., says: "I had weak kidneys for a good many years. I had a dragging ache in my back and was so lame I could hardly get up or down. My kidneys acted irregularly and other symptoms showed they were out of order. I became restless and nervous and couldn't get much sleep. Mornings I felt more tired than before going to bed and I was often bothered with dizziness. When I bent over I often had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. I tried different remedies without getting relief but when I used Doan's Kidney Pills, they soon helped me. After using three boxes my kidneys were acting regularly, my backache was gone and I had no more dizziness."

60c. at all dealers. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHOLE LIFE WAS MISERABLE FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Cabinet maker for eighteen years with same complaint suffered tortures from indigestion, dyspepsia, gas in stomach, and constipation.

Became quite nervous and had dizzy spells, but Dreo gave Relief.

"I know what it is to suffer the tortures of indigestion, dyspepsia, and gastritis, and the other ailments which go along with them, and I also know what it means to get rid of them," said Mr. John McHaff of 105 Centre-st., Findlay, O. Mr. McHaff has been an expert cabinet maker for 18 years.

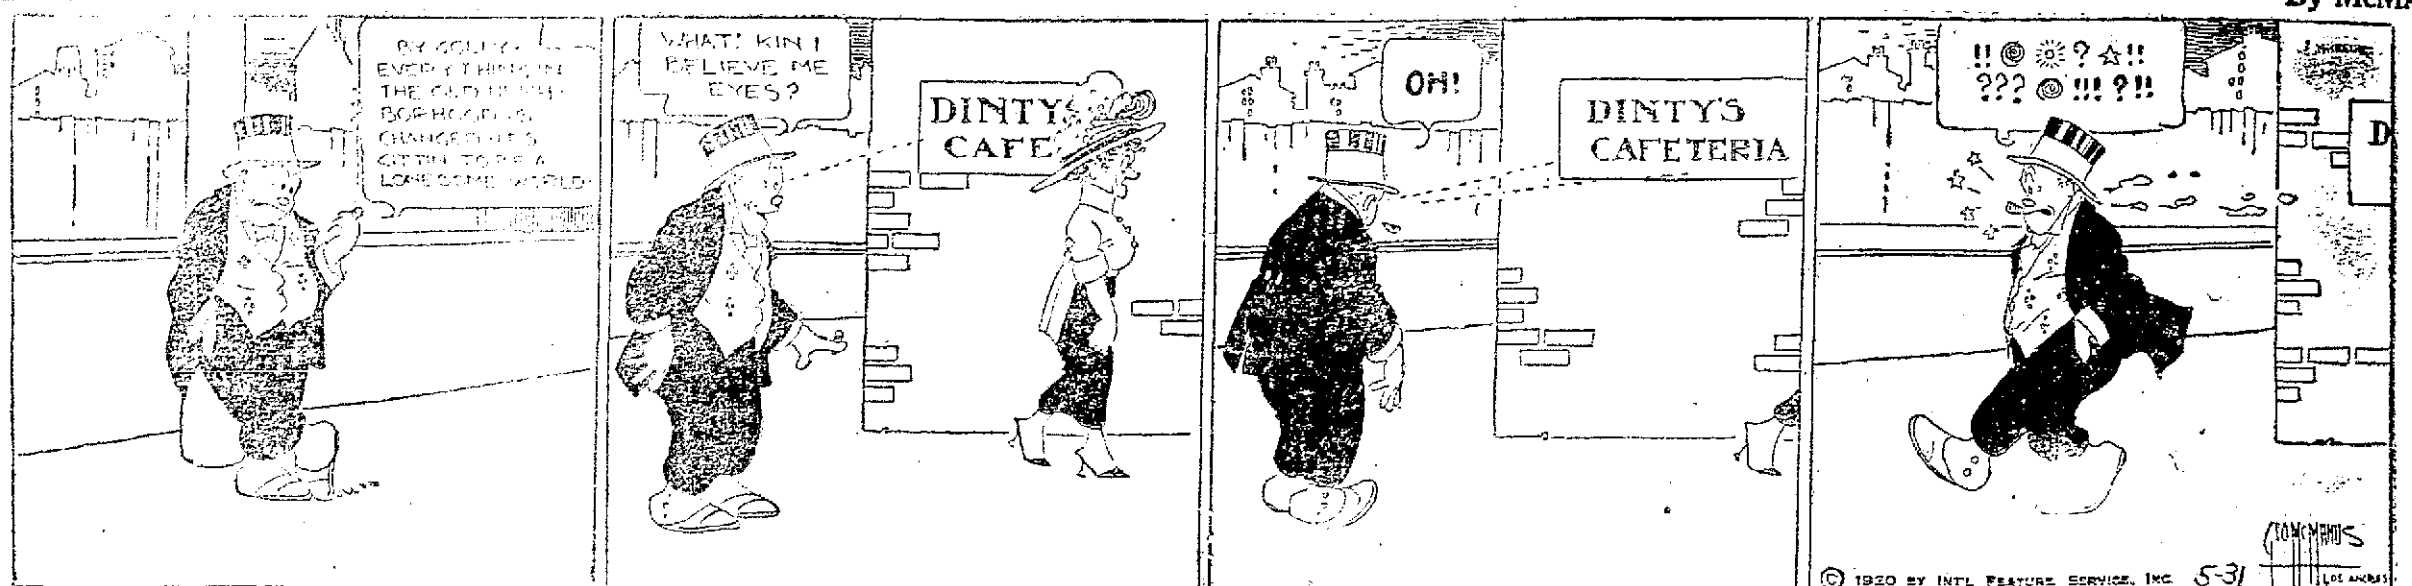

"This medicine has almost worked a miracle in my case. After each meal I'd fill up with gas; my stomach burned like fire, and I had gripping pains. My bowels were badly constipated. I suffered from dizziness and vertigo and became nervous so that I slept poorly and would rise in the morning feeling tired out."

"I had taken much medicine, designed to cure stomach troubles, but I never got more than temporary relief. I think the reason Dreo has done me so much good is because it acted on the rest of the trouble. It got my bowels moving regularly, cleared my liver off and strengthened my stomach. I've taken three bottles of Dreo and my troubles have been entirely relieved. I sleep sound, have a good appetite and feel good all over."

Dreo is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves, which act directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart fluttering, gas on the stomach and other troubles.

Dreo is now sold by all progressive druggists and is being especially introduced in Lima by Halcrow's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High-sts.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

"The salesman realizes that he was at fault."

"How so?"

"He tried to sell a backpack the kind of shirt clerks, bookkeepers, editors and college professors wear."

An artist, who was showing a young woman over his studio. After she had critically examined all the pictures she remarked:

"I notice several pictures among your works, but not a single sunrise. How's that?"

The artist, who was rather noted for his Bohemian habits, blushed a little at the question, and then stammered:

"You see, it's this way. To tell the truth, the reason I've never painted a sunrise is because I'm never up at this time."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

In Use for Over 30 Years

At any dealer

Signature of J. C. F. H. H. H.

Kremola

Makes the Skin Beautiful

"KREMOLA" is the Finest Face Bleach

Ever produced. Free samples for the complexion. All dealers. For mail order, London, England.

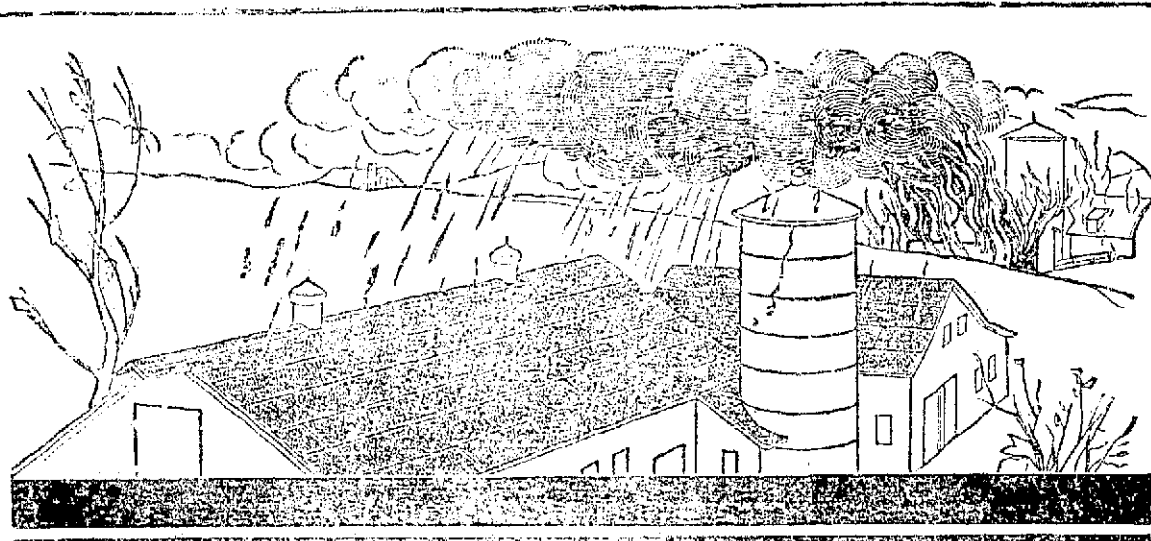

Dr. C. M. Henry, 100 N. La Salle St., Chicago

LICHIN

Money back without question

if HUNT'S Salve fails in the treatment of ITCH, ECZEMA, RINGWORM, TETTER, or other itching skin diseases. Try a 75 cent box at our risk.

C. J. VORTKAMP, Druggist

Certain-teed Roofing Resists Fire

Certain-teed Roofing is fire retarding and spark proof, consequently your fire risk is greatly reduced when Certain-teed roofs your buildings.

Burning embers carried by the wind from nearby fires are always a menace to old fashioned, inflammable wood shingle roofs. Certain-teed forms a permanent protection against sparks and embers and all such carriers of fire.

Because of the great risk of general conflagrations in congested districts, and of the lack of safe fire protection in the outlying and rural districts you should get this Certain-teed protection on your buildings.

In addition to being fire resisting, Certain-teed is a most economical roof. It resists all forms of weather attack—rain, sleet, snow, sun, etc. It is guaranteed by the manufacturer for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to the weight you select.

There is a scarcity of many types of roofing products—you can always get Certain-teed Smooth Surfaced Roofing, the most economical and serviceable roofing to be obtained.

See your dealer at once. He either has Certain-teed or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse.

Certain-teed Products Corporation
General Offices, St. Louis
Offices and Warehouses in Principal Cities

Certain-teed

PAINT-VARNISH-ROOFING & RELATED-BUILDING-PRODUCTS

CERTAIN-TEED ROOFING

Sold In Lima By

EVANS & THOMAS

The Hardware Men

THE COURT HOUSE IS OPPOSITE US

EVERY WEDNESDAY

—IS—

SPECIAL SALES DAY

IN LIMA

Your Day In Lima Will Be More Enjoyable

If You Travel by the

OHIO ELECTRIC

Plenty of Cars. Come when you like. Leave when you are through Bad roads never bother the Dependable O. E.